Break Called Treason, Penalty Death

More Men Will Be Sent to Viet Nam

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has given American field commanders in Viet Nam broad authority to call for — and get — additional fighting men to step up the war against the Communist Viet Cong.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told newsmen, after a day-long policy conference Thursday at the LBJ Ranch, that Johnson had "instructed me to meet the requests from our military commanders for additional personnel as they are received."

Some requests for more men already have been received, McNamara said, and troops will move "as they become available for that purpose."

The defense chief said 180,000 uniformed Americans already are stationed in South Viet Nam. He wouldn't speculate on how many more would be sent because "we don't wish to give our opponents advance information on the forces that they will confront in the future."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who joined McNamara and other top policy advisers for the marathon session with Johnson, said Viet Nam actually took second place in the discussions to "the unilateral action of the white minority government in Rhodesia in illegally seizing power, an action which the United States government deplors."

Promising a further Rhodesia policy statement today from United Nations Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, Rusk said Johnson had ordered the recall of American diplomats in the African country — headed by Consul General Roswell B. McClelland — and the shutdown of activities there by the United States Information Agency.

"The United States government," said Rusk, "in no way recognizes the rebel regime, and continues strongly to support a solution in Rhodesia that will be just and acceptable to the population as a whole" — black as well as white.

McNamara and Rusk reported to newsmen at Bergstrom Air Force Base near Austin, 65 miles east of the Johnson ranch, while waiting for a plane to take them back to Washington.

LBJ Issues Thanksgiving Proclamation

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, proclaiming Thursday, Nov. 25, Thanksgiving Day, called upon all persons to give thanks for "the blessings that have been bestowed upon our nation during the past 12 months."

Enumerating accomplishments of the last year, he said: "We have guaranteed the right to vote to all our citizens. We have pledged dignity to our elderly—even in sickness. We have broadened the horizons of opportunity for our poor. . . . We have enjoyed the greatest prosperity in history."

And he called in the proclamation issued Thursday for prayers that "the forces of violence, indifference and intolerance may soon vanish from the face of the earth."

Byrd's Son May Be Given Senate Seat

WASHINGTON (AP) — There is strong speculation around the Senate that the Harry Byrd name may not be missing from the 1966 roll-call lists despite Sen. Harry F. Byrd's resignation.

The 78-year-old Virginia Democrat quit the Senate Thursday with a formal resignation submitted to and accepted by Gov. Albert S. Harrison Jr. Byrd said he was stepping down because of his health. He has been suffering from arthritis.

Harrison is expected to act speedily to name a successor to fill Byrd's seat until next November's election. Virginia will elect two senators at that time, with Sen. A. Willis Robertson, 78, seeking a new six-year term.

At the top—or near it—of Harrison's list of prospective appointees is the name of Harry F. Byrd Jr., 51, son of the retiring senator and a Virginia state senator since 1947. The younger Byrd is publisher of the Winchester Evening Star and the Harrisonburg Daily News-Record in his state.

Harrison has had close association with the Byrds since he managed the retiring senator's 1952 campaign.

Airliner Burns on Landing, 40 Dead

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A Boeing 727 jet airliner with 90 persons aboard burst into flames on landing at the city airport Thursday night, burning 40 passengers to death in the fire-swept fuselage.

Another 50, including the entire crew of six, dived through windows and emergency hatches seconds before the fire raged forward from the three jet engines in the tail all the way to the flight deck.

Of the survivors, 43 were hospitalized. The dead were in the blackened fuselage.

A spokesman for United Air Lines, owner of the plane, blamed the disaster on the collapse of a nose wheel as the aircraft touched down.

The three rear-mounted engines of the 727 are fed by fuel lines leading back from tanks in the wings.

The flight originated in New York and reached Salt Lake City after stops in Cleveland, Chicago and Denver. Its scheduled destination was San Francisco.

The pilot, Capt. Gail C. Kelmier, 48, of Denver, was among the hospitalized survivors. Hospital officials said he kept repeating, "Terrible, terrible."

It was the third 727 involved in fatal accidents since August and the second this week. The first plunged into Lake Michigan off Lake Forest, Ill., on Aug. 16, killing all 30 aboard. The second hit a hill while approaching Cincinnati Monday night, and 58 of the 62 persons aboard died.

The Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington dispatched 12 investigators to seek the cause of the crash.

A spokesman for the Federal Aviation Agency said in response to question, "At this point we can see no relationship between the three accidents and we have no plans for grounding 727 jets."

A similar view was expressed by Pader Hogue, chief flight safety engineer for Boeing. "I think it's a fine airplane and recent unfortunate experiences are in my opinion unrelated," he declared.

The survival of the pilot and other crew members provided an opportunity for investigators to obtain first-hand expert opinion on the cause.

Mrs. Lyndon R. Day of Arlington, Va., a passenger who escaped, said:

"I heard a loud thud. I knew we had made a crash landing. There were flames on the outside of the plane on both sides. I scrambled through a door on to a wing and dived to the ground."

Another passenger, Ralph S. Nesbitt of Santa Monica, Calif., told interviewers:

"We had a hard bump, starting swerving from side to side and flames broke out from the rear. People were thrown all over the place. It was horrible. The heat was terrible."

Nesbitt said he dived through an open window on to a wing and then dropped to safety through a sheet of flame.

British Warn Rhodesians, Set Sanctions

LONDON (AP) — The British government warned Prime Minister Ian Smith and his Rhodesian regime today their defiance of British authority is treason. The penalty is death.

Atty. Gen. Sir Elwyn Jones issued the warning in the House of Commons as the government sought emergency powers to restore Britain's authority over the breakaway, white-run colony in central Africa.

Jones warned Britons inside and outside Rhodesia that actions furthering the aims of Smith's regime would be treasonable.

The bill giving the British government massive powers of retaliation against Rhodesia sped toward adoption in the House.

Quick passage was urged by Prime Minister Harold Wilson, who Thursday night accused Smith's regime of taking police state measures and assuming "the sickeningly familiar attitudes of authoritarian rule."

Jones introduced the bill asking for these special powers:

—An order invalidating any laws passed or business transacted by Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith's regime after its unilateral declaration of independence Thursday.

—Authority for the British government to exercise executive control and to make laws in Rhodesia.

—An amendment to British legislation to make it easier for "loyal Rhodesian citizens" to obtain citizenship of the United Kingdom and the colonies.

—An order enabling the British immigration authorities to confiscate passport documents issued or renewed by the Rhodesian regime.

Jones pointed out that other actions by Britain—such as the ban on import of Rhodesian tobacco and sugar—had already been carried out under existing statutory powers.

The bill proclaimed that the Rhodesian government's declaration of independence and all acts that flowed from it were illegal.

Wilson dismissed Smith and his government of white settlers immediately after the Rhodesian leader, 46, declared the central African colony independent from Britain. But the dismissal was a formality designed to allow Britain to intervene in case of internal strife and to forestall African nationalists from forming a Rhodesian government in exile.

Wilson called the breakaway a "rebellion against the crown."

"The world has taken a step backward today," he said in a 10-minute radio-television address to his people. "It is our task to take measures to bring the people of Rhodesia back from the dangerous path they have taken, back to mutual trust and racial cooperation."

Sunken Chlorine Barge Lifted At Baton Rouge

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — A giant, floating derrick pulled a sunken chlorine barge from the muddy bottom of the Mississippi River today in just under two hours.

The blue handrailing of the barge broke surface shortly before 10 a.m., following a 60-foot lift.

Helmeted crewmen aboard the derrick quickly hosed down the four chlorine tanks, containing 602 tons of deadly liquid chlorine, to wash away slit.

Scientists then went aboard to check the tanks for leaks or hazards to safety.

The barge and its cargo slipped to the bottom during Hurricane Betsy Sept. 9-10 just offshore from the Louisiana State University campus.

River traffic on the busy Mississippi was halted during the lift operation. Air traffic was directed away from the scene.

Ike Had Real Heart Attack, Doctors Say

FT. GORDON, Ga. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's illness was diagnosed today as a true heart attack.

Revising their first estimate that the 75-year-old five-star general had suffered only a heart insufficiency, the medical team issued a new report on the basis of late tests.

Eisenhower, vacationing at his cottage on the Augusta National Golf Club course, suffered chest pains Monday night and was taken to the nearby Ft. Gordon Army Hospital.

The finding was that he suffered from a shortage of blood supply to heart muscles, producing angina pectoris or heart pain.

Today Capt. Wallace Hitchcock, the Fort's information officer, reported that further electrocardiogram tests had revealed Eisenhower suffered a genuine heart attack.

The statement said, however, that the one-time leader of the nation in war and peace had spent a restful night, has had no further chest pains and was "in excellent spirits this morning."

Eisenhower had one attack in the early hours Tuesday, was reported on the road to recovery within a couple of weeks, then

Mamie 69 Sunday

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Sunday will be Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower's 69th birthday.

Realization of the fact today brought a broad smile to the face of her son, John, erasing traces of weariness.

"Are there any plans for your mother's birthday Sunday?", he was asked.

Looking startled, he broke into a smile, and replied: "No we haven't had a chance to give it any thought, but I will certainly have to. I'm glad you brought it up," he told a reporter.

In constant attendance at the bedside of her ailing husband, Mrs. Eisenhower is expected to mark the occasion quietly.

had another heavier longer "episode" of angina pectoris or heart pains Wednesday.

The doctors reported Thursday they were treating him as if he had had an actual heart attack — he suffered one in 1955.

The doctors said the two attacks in less than 48 hours of angina pectoris were threatening and that it was not uncommon for patients with heart disease to experience chest pains repeatedly which might or might not develop into "a full-blown heart attack."

On Wednesday, before the second attack, doctors had reported that Eisenhower had been making a good recovery, had not suffered a heart attack in the ordinary sense, and would be transferring today from Ft. Gordon Army Hospital to Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington.

Eisenhower was returned to the oxygen tent Wednesday, and a special cardiac bed was wheeled into his room Thursday to make him more comfortable.

Experts Continue Blackout Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government and industry power experts study today the pattern of Tuesday night's massive blackout in which a power failure surged through city after city in the Northeast.

Chairman Joseph C. Swidler of the Federal Power Commission, who heads the investigation directed by President Johnson, said the panel was to seek today to find out "how the cascading process worked" and also what "reverse action" was taken to restore service.

Coming suddenly during the evening rush hour, the blackout at its peak enveloped 80,000 square miles in an eight-state area and affected up to 30 million persons. Power in New York City was off for more than 10 hours, with hundreds of thousands of persons stranded in subways and elevators.

During a break in the long session Thursday night, Swidler said: "There is no easy answer to this. We are just plowing ahead."

After the session, he added: "We have exchanged a great deal of information on what took place, but there are still some gaps."

Swidler indicated he had some doubts as to whether he would have a preliminary report to President Johnson ready by this weekend as he first had hoped.

"I did not intend to fix a deadline for myself," he said.

After meeting for 14 hours Thursday, Swidler said the problem still was one of finding where the failure occurred.

"The breakdown is not traceable to any unit," he said. "The systems went back into service with the same equipment. The problem of tracing is a complex one."

power companies affected, and several others are taking part in the discussions aimed at preventing any similar power blackout in the future.

The companies and groups involved included the Pennsylvania-Jersey-Maryland Interchange Pool, Rochester Gas & Electric, Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, the Power Authority of the State of New York, Niagara-Mohawk, and the New York State Electric & Gas.

Bus Goes Off Icy Highway, Several Hurt

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn. (AP) — A bus careened off a remote section of slushy Highway 53 this morning and first reports indicated a dozen or more persons may have been injured.

A hospital here was alerted to receive 12 to 14 people after five ambulances and two doctors were sent to the scene, about 13 miles north of Orr. Another ambulance was sent from Cook. There was no immediate report of fatalities.

The bus, which reportedly belonged to Northern Transportation Co. of Virginia, was en route from International Falls to Virginia, when it went off the highway about 8 a.m.

Two inches of snow fell earlier in the week and two more inches of wet snow fell overnight, making roads treacherous.

The big vehicle reportedly landed on its wheels, upright in a ditch, but it was not determined immediately whether it had rolled over.

Let's Get Growing

By A. F. SHIRA

Importance Of Nitrogen In Soils

IN our two previous articles we talked about the soil in regard to its texture, porosity, humus content and moisture holding properties, along with the necessary requirements for the growth and activities of the beneficial soil bacteria and other organisms.

Now, let us consider some of the food elements that must make up the necessary components of the soil, if good plant growth is to be maintained.

Most gardeners are familiar with the names of the three primary elements of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash without which no plants would be able to exist. Commercial fertilizers containing these three elements are generally known as "complete fertilizers".

On the other hand, there are at least thirteen other chemical elements, according to the findings of soil specialists, that are needed in suitable balance for the well-being of plants. These are often referred to as "trace minerals," or "minor elements." They include such elements as iron, carbon, hydrogen, copper, boron, along with some others. Fortunately for the gardener, they are usually present in most soils in sufficient quantities for good plant growth, if other desirable properties are present that constitute a good fertile soil.

Therefore, in the general routine of gardening it is not usually necessary to give much thought to them. It should be stated in this connection that the greater part of any soil is made up of minerals that plants cannot utilize, such as silicon and aluminum.

AT THIS TIME let us consider nitrogen and its importance for plant growth. It is the principal chemical for the production of foliage. On account of its high solubility in water, nitrogen disappears most rapidly from soils in areas of heavy rainfall. Also, it is the element that is usually deficient in sandy, or otherwise light soils. Because of this, it is the most important ingredient that must be added to the soil by the gardener.

Nitrogen is so necessary for plant nutrition that the amount of it available in a given soil is the controlling factor of plant growth. The so-called "worn-out soil" is generally one that has been robbed or exhausted, of its original reserves of nitrogen without any adequate measures having been taken for its replacement. The amount of this vital element in the soil usually denotes whether it is rich, or poor.

THE IMPORTANCE OF nitrogen can be readily understood when one realizes that it forms an essential part of all plant tissues that are required for growth, flowers and fruits. In addition to the fact that nitrogen is the most important ingredient in the soil, it is at the same time the element soonest exhausted and the one most costly to replace.

Now, we may ask, where does this nitrogen come from. The answer is simple. It comes originally from the air. A small amount in oxide form may be precipitated directly during rains and snows. However, most of it comes from the beneficial

DEAR ABBY:

He Could Burn House Down

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My father makes his home with us. He is 82 and getting senile. He can remember what happened 75 years ago, but he forgets what you told him five minutes ago. He has always been a habitual cigarette smoker, and since that is his only pleasure in life we are not going to ask him to give it up. But here's the problem:

He has burnt about a dozen holes in the carpet beside his bed. He has also burnt about 40 holes in the night stand table. He has set the mattress on fire twice and there are cigarette holes in all his pajamas and his bathrobe, too. He will be the death of me yet. What can I do? I can't stand and watch him all day.

WORRIED SICK

DEAR WORRIED: He could not only be the DEATH OF YOU — he could be the death of himself and everyone in the house. Someone must keep control of the cigarettes and matches and stay with him while he smokes. Otherwise, the ashes he leaves could be his own.

DEAR ABBY: I am the friend of a girl who baby-sits for a family that is quite large. When she gets there she puts the kids to bed and then she does the dishes and straightens up the house. I say she's getting paid to baby-sit, not to do housework, and if she cleans the house she should get paid extra. She says she cleans the house because she LIKES to, nobody ASKS her to. She says she is trying to take a load off the mother's back. Now, she's a sweet kid for wanting to help, but don't you think that mother should feel like a big slob for leaving a messy house for a sitter to clean?

HATES TO CLEAN

DEAR HATES: I don't know the condition of the mother's house, her health or her conscience. But if your friend cleans the house because she wants to take a load off the mother's back, she IS a sweet kid. Now, what's your problem?

DEAR ABBY: For 12 years we have had a fine, loyal girl working for us. There are six in our family. All the children are in school. I work six days a week and this girl is indispensable to our household. She started working here as a teen, is an excellent worker, has a sunny disposition and never complains. But she steals.

At first we couldn't believe it, but now it is obvious. What she takes is usually not of much value. (Half the time if she'd ask me for it, I'd give it to her.) The older children have repeatedly discovered the pilfered items before she gets them out of the house, and they have recovered them. I thought of going to our pastor, but this girl is a sincere and valuable church worker and I don't want the pastor to think less of her. Another thing — domestic help is almost impossible to get here. If you have any ideas or suggestions, please let me know.

DISTRESSED

DEAR DISTRESSED: Tell her privately, but candidly, that you are aware of her pilfering. Offer to forgive the girl if she promises to shape up. If she keeps her word, keep her. If not, let her go.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "GOLDLOCKS": Your mistake was in giving too much. There's an old saying, "When baiting a mousetrap with cheese, always leave a little room for the mouse." Reflect on it.

School Auction Set at Richmond

DAKOTA, Minn. (Special) — The Richmond and Richmond Ridge school buildings and all contents will be sold at the Richmond building on Highway 14-61 in the Twin Bluff Motel area at 10 a.m. Nov. 20.

The personal property has been moved to the Richmond school and may be inspected there at open house Saturday from 2 to 4 p.m. Both districts were attached to Dakota District 2609 Aug. 3.

Harry Foust, board chairman, explained that the building and land at Richmond Ridge School was deeded to Dakota district by Donald Diekrager. A deed made when the school opened 40 years ago said the land at the time of dissolution would revert to the owners.

Donald Diekrager's grandfather, Herman Diekrager Sr. and Charles Papenfuss, whose sons, Harry and Herbert, now own and operate the adjacent farm, donated a half-acre each for the school. The building was constructed on the Diekrager tract. The board thanked Diekrager for his gift.

All properties that will be sold have clear title. Questions regarding the sale may be addressed to Chairman Foust, Mrs. Bruce Bearwald, clerk, or Ralph Grant, treasurer.

Ettrick Industries Director Renamed; Interest Due Paid

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — A. M. Hogden was re-elected a director of Ettrick Industries, Inc., at the sixth annual meeting in the Ettrick Mutual Insurance Co. building Wednesday night.

Arthur Runnstrand was named a director to succeed Ben Erickson, who no longer resides in Ettrick. Other officers and directors are: Kenneth Truax, president; Wayne Erickson, vice president; Robert Ofsdahl, secretary; Smith Reine, treasurer, and Bennett Onarud, director.

Finances were discussed. It was reported that 4 percent interest has been paid to stockholders. The Etco factory occupies the building constructed by the corporation. Last year Ettrick Industries added a 300-by-50-foot addition, the same size as the original building.

Quie Explains Why Nation Is in Viet Nam

Winona Civic Association members elected new officers Thursday night and heard a talk by 1st District Cong. Albert H. Quie.

Named president was Clarence Bell, succeeding Stanley Wiczorek. Franklin Tillman, secretary, was elected new vice president and Gerald Modjeski will be secretary. Hubert Joswick was re-elected treasurer. New officers will be installed next month.

IN HIS speech, keyed to Veterans Day observance, Quie said the United States is at war in Viet Nam because "of a dedication not only to country, but to the ideals which prompted the founding of this nation."

"Just as communism has swept across such vast areas of the world in our lifetime to enslave people, the concept of democracy reached out to help free the people of America in 1776. It continues to reach out today, carried by dedicated men such as those Americans now fighting in Viet Nam," Cong. Quie said.

"Much of the credit for gaining our own independence, and thus our individual liberties, must go to men who had an international view of affairs, even in the 18th century," said Cong. Quie. "The Marquis de Lafayette was a 21-year-old French nobleman when he organized a company of soldiers in France at his own expense and brought them to America to aid the cause of liberty."

"From Germany came Baron von Steuben and from Poland came Pulaski, who lost his life in our fight for independence. Scotland's contribution was John Paul Jones, who gave us a national slogan: 'I have not yet begun to fight!'"

"THESE and many who are not so well known came to share in our fight for independence not because they were drafted, not even because this was their country, and certainly not because they expected financial reward," Cong. Quie said.

"They came and fought because of a belief in what the 13 struggling little colonies were fighting for against the greatest and strongest empire in the world," he said.

"And the battles were not won only on the battlefield. In the English House of Commons itself, while the Revolutionary War was going on, brave men who believed in liberty argued the American case. Men such as Edmund Burke and Charles Fox—names almost unknown in our country today—never saw our shores, yet they risked their careers and their fortunes to fight the American cause in Parliament."

"With a heritage such as this, is it any wonder that we are involved in Viet Nam?" Cong. Quie asked. "Ours is a heritage of involvement in the fight for the liberty, equality and the dignity of individuals. These concepts are only won when people care and become involved in the constant struggle to preserve them."

"There are always people who say let somebody else do it. But thank God for those who care enough to try!"

THE PRINCIPLE of working not only to preserve individual freedom, but to increase the opportunity to use that freedom, is as applicable in our domestic affairs as in foreign policy, Cong. Quie said.

"That is why organizations such as this association are so important," he contended. "Freedom and individual dignity are not high-flown terms that mean nothing. They mean your right and responsibility to have organizations such as this through which to work for your own progress, making your own decisions and reaping your own rewards from your own efforts."

"This is the concept for which Lafayette, Steuben, Pulaski and Jones crossed the ocean to join Washington, Lee, Henry, the Adamses and all the rest in our fight for independence. It is the

Today's Count: 26,461

City Gain at Least 5 Percent

By FRANK UHLIG
Daily News Staff Writer

Winona appears to have registered the desired 5 percent population increase, "with a little cushion to spare," city officials said today.

City Council President Harold Bresath said unofficial returns in the special census completed this week show a population of 26,461. The minimum objective officials had hoped to reach was 26,140.

UP TO NOW, the city's official population figure, as compiled in the 1960 federal census, was 24,995.

Only today has it been possible to say with any certainty that Winona has achieved the gain, according to E. J. Steinfeld, census director. Steinfeld is supervising the head count as a representative of the Bureau of Census district office in St. Paul.

Figures released to city officials today are only preliminary, Steinfeld emphasized. They are subject to thorough auditing by the Census Bureau which will then issue the final and official total.

Steinfeld urged all persons who have not been counted to get in touch with his office in City Hall. He likened the situation to a close election, where each single vote is highly important. The margin is narrow, he said, and still subject to fluctuation or possible reduction.

BY GAINING the hoped-for 5 percent increase, the city will qualify for additional revenue in state gas and cigarette tax allotments. Winona has invested about $5,310 in expenses of taking the special census. Were the desired increase not to occur, the city would have spent its money for no purpose and tax allotments would stay at the 1960 level. Apportionments are on a per capita basis.

Individuals who believe they have not been counted yet should turn in a blank form published in Wednesday's Daily News or should call the census office in City Hall, Steinfeld said. Telephone number is 8-2068.

Information given to census takers is all confidential, Steinfeld said. He stressed that questions about the number of families in each house and whether houses have basements have nothing to do with zoning or city codes. No city official is allowed to see the books, he said.

Meanwhile, persons who are bypassed can still be included by calling his office or the city recorder's office, he said.

Mabel and Canton Ask School Study On Consolidation

MABEL, Minn. (Special) — Mabel and Canton school district boards have engaged the bureau of field studies of the University of Minnesota to survey the two districts with the view of possible consolidation. Action was taken at a joint meeting Monday.

SCHULTZ HEARING DELAY
A hearing on an application for a contract carrier permit by Schultz Transit Co., Winona, originally scheduled by the state Railroad & Warehouse Commission for Wednesday, has been postponed. The postponement was made at the request of the trucking firm and the hearing will be held at a time to be announced later.

ton, St. Cloud State and the Austin Junior College. Purpose of the Workshop is to acquaint students with the roles and functions of the 10 standing committees established last May at the state SMEA meeting.

Moderator of the Teresian Chapter of the SMEA is Miss Mary Alice O'Reilly of the department of education. Co-chairmen of the Saturday workshop are the Miss Connie Frana, Calmar, Iowa Junior, and Miss Barbara Heroman, Neenah, Wis., sophomore.

Weishorn Elected By State AAA

Gordon L. Weishorn of Winona has been elected third vice president of the Minnesota State Automobile Association.

He was among officers elected at the annual meeting in St. Paul. Erling Berg, Duluth, is the new president succeeding Dr. William G. Sauer, Rochester.

Man Loses Arm, Bleeds to Death

HENDRUM, Minn. (AP) — Joseph Holm, about 50, a Hendrum area farmer, bled to death after his arm became entangled in a corn picker Thursday. Holm was working on the farm owned by Clarence Jacobson, rural Ada.

Council Approval Needed

Planners OK More Sarnia Apartments

With no objections appearing, the City Planning Commission recommended Thursday night that a proposed apartment site at 366 E. Sarnia St. be zoned R-3 (multi-family residential).

The lot is owned by Cortland Hauge, whose furniture store is adjacent. It is 107 feet wide and 400 feet long. Up to now the lot's south half has been in an R-3 district while the north half has been within the arbitrary boundary of an M-1 (light manufacturing) district lying along Milwaukee railroad right of way.

According to Hauge's attorney, Leo Murphy Jr., the lot is a proposed site for three apartment buildings to be built by Chudnow Construction Co., Milwaukee. Since there is no industrial construction in the area—now occupied by apartments, clinics, offices and retailers—the M-1 zoning serves no purpose, Murphy said. It does, however, prohibit any residential building in its confines, he said, and the entire Hauge lot is needed for the planned apartment buildings.

Murphy also pointed out that all lots to the east are fully within the R-3 zone. The requested change would not create an enclave or constitute spot zoning, he said, but would only extend the present R-3 zone westward.

A small triangular portion of land on the northwest corner of the Breilow Funeral Home lot also was rezoned. The M-1 zone boundary which angled across the corner was moved northward to a point even with the north line of the Hauge lot.

The recommendation now must be acted upon by the City Council.

Planning Unit To Be Short Of 2 Members

The City Planning Commission, meeting with a quorum Thursday night—the first time in more than a month—found it will have two vacancies in its membership soon.

James Klein, commission secretary, will leave the city in two weeks and has offered his resignation. Also vacant is the post formerly occupied by Robert W. Johnson who resigned two months ago.

APPOINTMENTS made to the commission must be made by the mayor and ratified by the City Council.

Present at the Thursday meeting were: James Schain, chairman, Norman Indall, James Foster, William F. White and Klein.

Without taking formal action the commission agreed to delay investigation of a street maintenance plan until new members have been appointed.

The topic, introduced by Klein, was elaborated by Foster who proposed that inquiries be made about possible maintenance of streets in the Winona State College campus area by the college. Foster said he believes state colleges in other cities maintain such streets and, if so, it would be unfair to Winona taxpayers if the state does not do likewise here.

SCHAIN SAID he wondered whether such inquiries are within the scope of commission functions. White said he believes such inquiry is a proper planning function, that the commission serves as an advisory and investigative arm of the council but that a study should be made before recommendations are formulated.

Foster, who at first had moved to make the inquiry, suggested that action be deferred until the commission is at full strength. Schain asked if he would proceed with an informal investigation of the topic meanwhile.

Commission members are: Jerry Papenfuss, Foster, Frank Mertes, Philip Baumann, Norman E. Indall, Schain and White.

Eyota Firemen Buy Ambulance; Dance To Help Equip It

EYOTA, Minn. (Special) — Eyota volunteer firemen will have a benefit dance Nov. 27 in the new fire hall and garage to raise money for equipping a used ambulance it has purchased. It has been reconitioned and painted red. It will be equipped with stretchers, first aid kits and oxygen for resuscitation. Firemen will take first aid training and provide the village and area with ambulance service.

Spectacular Sky Object Seen Here

A white-hot tailed object observed at Minneapolis Tuesday also was observed here by several Winonans.

William Bohn, 118 E. Howard St., a post office employee, said he was going to work at 6 a.m. when he noticed the bright object in the sky.

"It looked like a big ball of intense white light," he said. "Behind the white light was a tail of red objects that looked like pieces of molten metal. It was moving at a high speed toward the northeast and passed directly over the center of Winona. It seemed low in altitude and very huge in size."

Bohn said, "It appeared to be about one-fourth the size of the moon. It's the most spectacular object I've ever seen in the skies."

A Winona woman also reported seeing the bright object Tuesday morning. She said it was very bright and appeared to be leaving a vapor trail. The bright white light suddenly disappeared, she said.

"I'd rather believe it was a flying saucer than a meteor," she said. Three other neighbors also saw the object at the same time.

The University of Minnesota said it probably was a meteor.

New Municipal Building Asked At Trempealeau

TREMPEALEAU, Wis. (Special) — A public hearing on a proposed operating budget of $78,027, plus a $40,000 10-year loan which the board proposes to use for a new municipal building, will be held at the Trempealeau Village Hall Nov. 22 at 8 p.m.

Anticipated revenues are $18,112, and proposed tax levy $19.915.

The board estimates the municipal building would cost $44,498. If permission is granted to borrow the money, the building will be erected next spring.

Among estimated expenditures are $49,775 for general government; $6,610, protection of persons and property; $1,330, health and sanitation; $11,223, roads and streets; $1,300, education and welfare; $500, charity; $1,089, indebtedness; $900, unclassified, and $500, public service enterprise.

Also placed in the budget was $4,800 for payment of temporary loans.

Two Fined in Municipal Court

Two out-of-town youths pleaded guilty to traffic charges and paid fines today in municipal court.

William K. Ogura, 19, St. Paul, pleaded guilty to a charge of careless driving on Mankato Avenue from Broadway to U.S. 61-14 and Highway 43 Wednesday at 11:50 p.m. He paid a $30 fine imposed by Judge John D. McGill as the alternative to 10 days in jail.

A charge of driving with no valid driver's license in possession at the same time and place was dismissed by Judge McGill

Judge Reverses Conciliation Court Verdict in Case

The judge reversed a conciliation court verdict for the plaintiff and ordered plaintiff to pay the defendants' costs of $17.37 in the decision of a case tried here in late summer.

Special Municipal Judge Loren W. Torgerson found that plaintiff Thomas Pampuch, Bluff Siding, Wis., was not entitled to $100 damages in a dispute over installation of a heating unit tank by Superior Heating & Roofing Co., 75 E. 2nd St.

Judge Torgerson, in a memorandum attached to his decision, wrote that Pampuch, who had the burden of proof, did not show that the tank had had tar or any viscous substance in it when it was installed by Superior Heating.

Thus, Pampuch has failed to show that the tank was defective, the "only issue in this case," according to Judge Torgerson. The case was tried Aug. 26 and Sept. 7 without a jury.

Superior Heating's attorney, William A. Lindquist, had appealed to municipal court a verdict against his client which Pampuch had earlier obtained in conciliation court. Attorney Dennis A. Challeen represented Pampuch.

Judge Torgerson, in reversing the $100 ruling which favored Pampuch, also found that Superior Heating is entitled to recover from Pampuch its "costs and disbursements" in defending itself—$17.37.

when Ogura produced his driver's license today in court. John A. Pettit, 20, Coalesburg, Ill., pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding 70 m.p.h. in a 55 zone on U.S. 61 Saturday at 1 a.m. Minnesota Highway Patrol made the arrest.

Pettit was making arrangements this morning to pay a $25 fine as the alternative to eight days in county jail.

Earl Bounced at Princess' Party

By EARL WILSON

B. JERLY HILLS — I want to correct the fallacious scandalous, irresponsible report that I crashed Sharman Douglas' exclusive party at The Bistro for Princess Margaret and got thrown out.

I got thrown out. But I didn't crash it.

You see, Your Honor (long pause and deep swallow), it was like this, sir. I was investigating a rumor that some other reporters were crashing the party. If there's anything I deplore it's party-crashing.

A photographer was ambushing in and out of the exclusive club despite the ban on journalists. A woman was penetrating the kitchen getting information from waiters, smuggling it out to us.

Suddenly a San Francisco reporter, George Murphy, started in the back way.

I deplored his terrible behavior, so I followed him, two steps behind. We found ourselves suddenly in the kitchen alone. Flinging down my topcoat I walked with him right smack into the middle of the most glamorous movie party of the year, amid Shirley MacLaine, Laurence Harvey, Gene Kelly, Warren Beatty, Natalie Wood and all the others. Charmin' Sharman didn't see me not yet, thank goodness that she is near-sighted.

GEORGE MURPHY, the other reporter, was certainly a gracious host, considering he was not invited to the party. Walking right to the bar he got a drink for himself and one for me.

It was well known that the press was excluded, and some of the guests knew that I was "hot" and waved me away.

"You damned fool, you should have worn a black tie!" exclaimed Milton Berle.

"I'm not crashing, I'm just investigating a rumor that there are crashers here, which I deplore," I said.

"Oh, sure, you are," said Berle.

"Prince" Mike Romanoff ordered us to sit down to drink with him. Reporter George Murphy, whose hospitality knows no bounds, got himself another drink.

Presently Sharman Douglas hovered over me, a Secret Service man beside her. Some link has squealed.

"Earl," she said, "I'm going to have to be rude. Congratulations for trying, but you're going to have to leave."

"PRINCE" Romanoff leaped to his feet. "Don't bother these men. They are friends of mine!" he said.

But the Secret Service man's glance seemed determined and I started to exit by way of the kitchen.

"Earl, you can go out through the front," smiled Sharman winningly.

"I can't," I said. "I left my topcoat on a big can of beans in the kitchen."

Strangely, we discovered later that indeed there was a deliberate party crasher there—the son of an important Hollywood director. I deplore party crashing and was glad he got thrown out. I saw Sharman next day at the big Universal studio party and she said she was sorry for having to throw me out.

My B.W. claims that this is one of the nicest throwing-outs I have ever been treated to.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "It is well to put off till tomorrow what you ought not to do at all." — Anon.

EARL'S PEARLS: Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee (who'll be on a Steve Lawrence TV'er) was asked his state's best-known exports. He answered: "Tennessee Ernie Ford and Tennessee Williams."

Sammy Davis says that before his recent vacation from "Golden Boy" his doctor told him he had to rest: "And if you don't take some time off, you may very well close before the show does." ... That's earl, brother.

Russ Launch Space Station Toward Venus

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched an unmanned space station toward Venus today and said it should reach the planet around the end of February.

It was the second announced Venus probe by the Russians and about 50 per cent heavier than Venus 1, which missed the planet by more than 100,000 miles in February 1961.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency which announced the launch, said Venus 2 is moving on a course "close to the prescribed one."

Tass said that by noon, the space probe was nearly 34,800 miles from the earth and equipment was functioning normally.

U.S. scientists said the Soviet spacecraft Zond 1, launched April 2, apparently was intended to be a Venus probe although the Russians never announced it as such. The Americans said Zond 1 apparently missed its mark in July 1964.

The U.S. Mariner 2 passed Venus Dec. 14, 1962, at a distance of 21,648 miles after gathering data continuously during its 180-million-mile journey. During the 42 minutes it flew past the planet it collected data on the surface and atmospheric temperatures and cloud structure of Venus. This was relayed back to earth and Mariner sped on toward the sun.

Tass said a multistage rocket launched Venus 2. The first stage was first put into a parking orbit and then it launched the station toward Venus. This is the method the Russians have used in their moon probes.

The weight of Venus 2 was given as 963 kilograms — 2,123 pounds. Tass said power is being supplied by chemical and solar batteries.

FLOOD A FACTOR

Buffalo Co. Valuation Boosted $2,588,590

ALMA, Wis. (Special) — The total valuation of all property in Buffalo County this year is $56,635,350, as fixed by the Board of Supervisors in annual session Tuesday.

The report was submitted by Arthur Wolfe, Howard Zittel, Sidney C. Johnson, John Hartman and Clem N. Herold. The valuation is $2,588,590 higher than last year.

Real estate valuations increased $2,585,600, from $54,049,750, or 4.8 percent. New construction in 1964 amounted to $473,900.

"THE MISSISSIPPI River flood last spring has shown its effect on the towns, villages and cities bordering the river," commented Harley E. Turk, Sparta, supervisor of assessments. "A decrease in value, both in real and personal property in the flooded areas, has caused other districts to pay a larger share of the tax burden."

Most counties in the Sparta district of the Department of Taxation showed an increase in the number of cattle but a decrease in average valuations. Turk said, indicating an increase in young stock. Sheep numbers again decreased, swine numbers decreased 14.20 percent, and merchant stocks increased 6.64 percent.

Full value of all real estate totals $44,897,400 and full value of all personal property, $11,737,950.

FULL VALUE of real estate classifications are: Residential, $14,614,200; mercantile, $4,222,200; manufacturing, $893,500; agricultural, $24,252,600; swamp or waste, $25,700, and forest lands, $889,200.

The average full value placed on the 60,688 head of cattle is placed at $137.77.

Average value of the 2,024 sheep is $10; the 6,783 swine at $34.64 per head, and all other live stock is totaled at $69,610.

Full values of merchants' stock is $1,386,100 and manufacturers' stock, $172,250, for a total of $1,558,350, as the full value of all stocks.

Logs, timber and lumber, not manufacturers' stock, is valued at $700; boats, $27,300; machinery, tools and patterns, $418,100; furniture, fixtures and equipment, $294,700, and all other personal property liable to taxation, $751,000.

Total full value of all property in Wisconsin for 1965 is $23,455,638,350, of which Buffalo County represents 0.241 percent.

ASSESSORS and their salaries were as follows: Houser F. Rockwell, city of Mondovi, $1,000; Willis W. Capps, city of Alma, $800; Carl H. Heitman, Fountain City, and B. J. Kennedy, Town of Nelson, each $500; Ervin Hunger, Town of Buffalo, $600; Michael Hogan, Waumandee, $525; Walter Winsand, Town of Gilmanton, $475; E. W. Wendland, Glencoe, Alton Balk, Lincoln, and Norman J. Hansemann, Buffalo City, each $450;

Martin Loewenhagen, Town of Alma; Lyle Hofer, Belvidere; James A. Julson, Dover; Arnold Weisenbeck, Maxville, and Ronald W. Helwig, Town of Mondovi, $400 each; Herman O. Arneson, Cross, $415; Edmund Hagen, Modena, $350; Carl E. Jacobson, Cochrane, $300, and Walter Poeschel, Canton, $250.

Valuations of the districts follow, the first figure, this year's, and the second, last year's:

80-Unit Motel To Hold Open House on Sunday

When owners of the new Linahan's Inn say theirs is the only full-facility motel from Winona to the Twin Cities, it is no idle statement.

All the standard accouterments of a typical luxury motel are there. Guests at the 80-unit hostelry at the intersection of Highways 61, 14 and 43 in Sugar Loaf have access to coffee shop, dining room, cocktail lounge and, in season, a courtyard swimming pool.

DINING AND lounge facilities also are available to non-guests. In fact, says William Linahan, president of Linahan's Inn, Inc., a special west-side entrance is provided for these customers, permitting them to enter dining rooms or bar without going through the guest lobby.

The low-lined, modernistic brick motel is surrounded completely by a bituminous-surfaced expanse that will park 225 cars.

An open house is set for Sunday, Linahan said, and Tuesday will be the opening business day. Workmen are putting finishing touches on the motor hotel whose construction was started late last winter.

Though obviously new, the inn and its setting have an air of established and well-kept maturity. The impression is fostered by the facades of antique brick stone and a scattering of stately trees, judiciously left standing at random points on the parking lot. The modern touch appears strongly in broad expanses of glass interspersed with colored panels, in the canopy structure over a two-lane drive at the lobby entrance and in the interior decor.

IN ALL its design, construction and surroundings, the motel's dual purposes are evident. It is not simply a transient stepping place but is structured to furnish a variety of services to its own vicinity, as well.

At the center of all the activity is the administrative building, 80 by 133 feet, which houses guest services, dining facilities up to banquet size, coffee shop and cocktail lounge.

Public areas are carpeted throughout. The red-orange sunburst theme on the green carpeting is repeated in table service, glassware and even in the firm's stationery. Most of the inn's 60 employees will work in the administrative center. The force will include the present staff of Linahan's downtown restaurant.

Dining space can be divided into as many as three rooms of varying sizes by paneled walls that look permanent but aren't. The main, or basic, dining room is planned to seat 100. Opened up to the full extent, the room will seat 250.

THE COFFEE shop, fronted by large windows opening to the south, is at the southeast part of the main building. Its capacity is about 55 persons. Since counters are not fastened in place, this room also can be converted into a small banquet or meeting space.

Adjacent to both coffee shop and dining room is the massive kitchen, fitted out in stainless steel. Its walls are ceramic tile. The floor is surfaced with a Winona-manufactured compound called Torginal, a product of the Kem-Tex Corp.

Leading off from the kitchen are a large walk-in cooler, spacious dry storage facilities and employees' dressing and wash rooms. Staffing the kitchen will be 12 or more employees, Linahan said.

At the building's north side, and separate from the dining room, is the cocktail lounge. At capacity it will seat about 50 persons, Linahan said. Customer seating is on two levels and the bar extends the length of the room. In connection is a service bar which will supply the dining rooms.

OVERHEAD is a uniquely designed ceiling of porous wood-fiber squares. These sections are in shades of gold, ochre, red and orange and are acoustically designed to soak up noises like blotters. Piped-in music will background the subdued sound level here as well as throughout the building.

Walls of the lounge are finished in a pattern of dark-stained, irregular wood surfaces. Indirect lighting prevails throughout.

In addition to these facilities, available to the public at large, the motel provides a varied list of accommodations and services for transient guests.

AFFILIATED with Best Western Motels, Linahan's is linked with such motor hotels as the Thunderbird. A m b a s s a d o r, Guest House and Hopkins House in Minneapolis, the Galaxy in Rochester and Uphoff's at the Wisconsin Dells.

A departing guest can make reservations at an affiliate motel while checking out. Linahan's is linked by special Bell Telephone TWX equipment to all others in the group. A confirmed reservation can be made at any other associated motor hotel within minutes. There are 950 motels, representing more than 50,000 rooms, in this nationwide linkup.

As a special convenience, Linahan's will honor Standard Oil, American Express, Diners Club and Carte Blanche credit cards for any and all services. Linahan, as general manager, is assisted by R. F. Potratz, who was associated for many

2 Ettrick Business Places Close Doors

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — Two Ettrick business places have closed. The Kleppen meat market and restaurant and the Forseth blacksmith and welding shop. Kleppen has employment in La Crosse. Forseth, who also is night marshal in the village, has resigned, giving 30 days notice. He will be employed at the Schilling Implement Co. in Holmen and plans to move his family there.

Four of the units are double-sized suites. These are furnished according to individual desires and are suitable for small gatherings or meetings. Twenty pairs of the regular rooms are interconnecting and can be used as double units.

All rooms are air-conditioned or heated by hot water registers, according to the season. The section is connected to the administrative building by a covered walkway.

Interior corridors serve all rooms but ground floor units have outside doors as well. Vending machines are situated in hallways and guests have access to free ice cube service.

FOR LINAHAN, the transition from downtown to suburban location is the end of one era and the beginning of another.

He is a native of Winona and was graduated from Winona Senior High School. From 1942 to 1946 he served with the Marine Air Force, 15 months of which was on such Southwest-Pacific islands as Guam and Kwajalein.

In 1958 he bought the Jockey Club, at 178 W. 3rd St., from Eddie Webster, who now operates a steak house near the Bloomington Stadium. Known since its purchase as Linahan's, the downtown restaurant and lounge will close Saturday night.

Linahan is a member of the American Legion, Elks, Winona Athletic Club, YMCA, Winona Country Club and the Chamber of Commerce. He and his wife have one son, 15, and four daughters, 12, 8, 5 and 3. They live at 455 Glenview Ct.

Good Neighbors Pick 52 Acres Near Lanesboro

LANESBORO, Minn. (Special) — Over 50 friends, neighbors and businessmen of the Lanesboro area picked 52 acres of corn on the Kenneth Peterson farm eight miles south of town Wednesday.

Mrs. Peterson died suddenly Oct. 30, leaving seven children, 2-14, who are at home with their father.

Armed with nine cornpickers, 20 tractors, 20 wagons and five elevators, the good neighbors completed the project in seven hours. Fuel, food and beverages were furnished. Wives of the men served dinner and afternoon lunch for the work crew.

Ettrick School Children Mark Veterans Day

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — Eighth grade boys gave the pledge of allegiance at the Veterans Day program at Ettrick Elementary School Thursday.

Poems were presented by second graders, eighth grade girls and Clayton Olson, elementary school supervisor. Debbie Lease gave a reading.

Mrs. Sheldon Cantlon, principal, explained the meaning of Veterans Day. Three minutes of silence were observed when Ettrick church bells rang at 11 a.m. and "Taps" were played by Ricky Nelsstuen. A prayer was offered by Kenneth Willgrubs, commander of Ettrick American Legion Post. Mrs. Sara Myrland was pianist and Robert Brush, Legionnaire, assisted with the program.

A bouquet of flowers was presented Ettrick school for National Education Week by the Legion and auxiliary. Rooms were decorated for the week and Veterans Day.

LIBRARY AT LANESBORO — LANESBORO, Minn. (Special) — the annual meeting of the Lanesboro Public Library Association will be held Monday at 2:30 p.m. at the library. Officers will be elected. Mrs. C. W. Hanson is chairman.

To Enrich Family And Community Life

(Editor's Note: This is the sixth in a series of Guest Editorials written by Winona civic, educational and religious leaders in connection with the observance of National Education Week, Nov. 7-13.)

By Ben Hayenga

Director of Family Service
Margaret Simpson Home

"EDUCATION is so thoroughly meshed into the life and welfare of the nation, the local community and the family of the pupil, that almost everyone has a stake in the school." (NEA Project on Institutions.) The more complex and complicated our civilization becomes, the more responsibility for education is delegated to factories, schools and institutions of higher learning. At present, the school is the largest contributor in providing tools for earning a living and self-expression.

In earlier days, the home was the center of all life, economic, social and educational. Everything was produced at home, and the skills to produce food, clothing, etc. were taught by the parents. Even reading, writing and arithmetic were taught in the home.

With the change which followed the industrial revolution, these home functions were replaced, and as production by machinery became more efficient than home production, the scene shifted and the family was no longer the center of all life.

The family, however, of necessity is still the most important institution for the rearing of children. The parents have the child during his most impressive years and it is during these early years that lessons of character development are learned.

EARLY IN LIFE and from the home we expect that a child will learn right from wrong, honesty, respect for parents, acceptance of other people and their needs, and especially respect for and wholesome appreciation of himself. We expect that the child will learn to give and take, that he will feel wanted and loved, that he will be free to express his feelings to those close to him without fear of punishment, rebuke or abasement.

The parent must function as a standard-setter, allowing the child to disagree and rebel verbally, yet always expecting the child to obey the rules. The child, on the other hand, has the right to expect the parent to be worthy of respect, loyal, honest, loving, willing to give to the child affection and in return be receptive to the child's emotions and feelings.

These functions are still basically family contributions and cannot be passed on to the educational system. Some parents, who are unwilling or unable to accept responsibility for being an adequate parent, try to push their responsibility upon the teacher, usually with disastrous results to the child. With a basically adequate emotional background in its students, the educational system can be expected to and does provide for students tools with which they can provide a better living for themselves and their family. It can give them tools for better expression of their own talents, etc. Studies have shown that the more education its citizens receive the higher is their earning capacity.

DR. SEYMOUR Wolfbein, director of the Office of Automation and Manpower in the U.S. Department of Labor, said recently, "Between the idle and the job stands a wall — that of education and training. The greater the education and training, the easier it is to get over the wall and the more rewarding the job on the other side." Likewise, a well-educated person can expect to receive more satisfaction out of living, be more flexible, more secure.

Like the parent, the community also has a part to play in the educational system. It needs to provide adequate facilities, adequate salaries and support for our various educational programs. The community has the responsibility for establishing and maintaining an adequate educational system, recreation facility, and a safe place for children and adults to live and grow.

We as parents salute our education program during American Education Week. May we never fail in doing our part as parents in providing emotionally stable children for the classroom. Since we put our most important possession — our child — into your care and keeping during school hours, we trust that you will help as example-setters by showing justice, by providing excellence in skills and learning, along with personal warmth which is conducive to learning and wisdom.

WE WANT MORE for our future citizens than the ability to earn large salaries. We need your contribution toward giving each child a goal in life — a reason for living, a use for the information he receives at school, and wisdom to meet his everyday problems.

Reds Still to Be Convinced

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The anti-war demonstrations over Viet Nam in different parts of the United States are beginning to boomerang. They are producing counter-manifestations which emphasize the firmness of American purpose. This could do more than any series of appeals by friendly governments through diplomatic channels to persuade the North Viet Nam government that it would be wise to arrange a settlement promptly.

Many observers have been wondering just why the North Vietnamese continue the war inasmuch as, in the long run, they are doomed to defeat anyway. The fact is that the story of what is happening inside America has been so completely misunderstood by the North Vietnamese that they have been expecting American surrender or at least a negotiated settlement which would amount to the same thing.

IT MAY BE surprising — but is nevertheless a fact — that the people of North Viet Nam are not aware of what the United States is doing. They have a controlled press and hear only propaganda stories to the effect that the United States is wringing its hands and cringing as it sends out appeal after appeal for peace. The people throughout Southeast Asia are being told that the United States isn't going to keep up the fight very long, and that all that is necessary now is to be patient and maintain harassment of South Viet Nam through guerrilla warfare.

But, sooner or later, the truth must percolate into North Viet Nam, and its leaders must inevitably realize that a united Viet Nam is not the objective of Red China and can only come into being and survive if the United States is ready to protect all of Viet Nam against aggression from Red China.

Conversely, the Red Chinese are convinced that if the North Vietnamese emerge victorious, the whole of the country will become a sort of semi-colonial possession of the Peking regime.

JUST WHICH concept will ultimately be accepted in Hanoi is an open question. There need be no doubt, however, that the liberation of all of Viet Nam and the establishment of a united government as an independent state will materialize only if the American forces are successful in the next two or three years in beating down the aggression that is sponsored by the Red Chinese.

This basic factor is at last being recognized in Washington. It is not easy to explain the changes in policies that have occurred, but apparently the White House and the State Department have concluded that there are two kinds of problems in Viet Nam — political and military.

1. It is important to build a stable government in South Viet Nam, and this means careful attention to political elements inside that country.

2. It is even more important to use enough military force to squelch guerrilla warfare and to convince the North Vietnamese that the United States has no intention of leaving Viet Nam, even if it takes years to achieve its objectives.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Hot Line to Moscow Down For 2 Hours in Blackout

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Defense officials have tried to hush it up, but the Washington-Moscow hot line went dead during Tuesday night's massive power failure.

The Russian government was notified at once through other channels that the shutdown was strictly accidental. Otherwise, the Russians might have jumped to the dangerous conclusion that the United States had shut off communications to hide a military move.

Throughout the electrical blackout Pentagon officials gave repeated assurances that defense communications had not been interrupted. This column has learned, however, that the emergency teletype linking the White House and the Kremlin was out of order for 2 hours.

The Defense Department's communications chief, Lt. Gen. Alfred Starbird, was in South Viet Nam investigating another communications foul-up when the lights started sputtering out across the United States northeast.

HIS DEPUTY, Maj. Gen. John Bestic, was making a speech in San Antonio, Texas. Another deputy, Maj. Gen. George Pickett, took charge of defense communications during the night-long emergency.

He told this column that he had kept in touch with Gen. Starbird in South Viet Nam throughout the emergency. He refused to comment, however, on the hot line failure.

Actually, the famous hot line consists of two lines — a cable maintained by International Telephone and Telegraph and a high-frequency radio communications system maintained by Radio Corporation of America. The power failure reportedly knocked out both systems for a short time.

Edward Glodock, an ITT executive who said he was authorized to speak for the company, refused to talk about the hot line.

Asked the cause of the line's failure, he would only say: "My instructions are, if the question should come up, not to discuss it with anyone."

RCA's CHIEF engineer, Eugene Becken, was more frank. Acknowledging that an "outage" had occurred in the hot line, he claimed

RCA had been able to get the circuit back in operation within two hours.

He also assured this column: "The Shutdown of the hot line was caused by an unprecedented problem. RCA has taken additional measures to prevent anything like this from happening again. If we have any more failures of this kind, the hot line will not be affected."

Meanwhile, Federal Power Chairman Joe Swidler is rushing a full report to the President on what he has learned about the great power failure. Insiders say he has still not learned enough to give the President any definite explanation for the blackout within the deadline that the President has imposed.

THE TROUBLE, say insiders, is that the FBI investigators and FPC accountants are attempting to unravel a technical mystery.

All that is known with reasonable certainty is that the interconnecting lines linking the various power systems of the Northeast caused the original trouble to spread. To prevent a repetition, the insiders claim, means must be developed to isolate any future power breakdown.

Anti-government demonstrations during the Inter-American Foreign Ministers' Conference in Rio de Janeiro, now scheduled to open Nov. 17, are considered likely.

That is one reason why several Latin American governments are still arguing that the meeting — twice postponed already — should either be put off again or held elsewhere. Brazil's provisional president, Gen. Humberto Castello Branco, who took power last year after heading a coup that ousted Leftist Joao Goulart, recently abolished all political parties and made himself virtual dictator until 1967.

THE VENEZUELAN administration of liberal President Raul Leoni is one which feels that this step has created an undemocratic atmosphere contradicting the purpose of the conference.

And rumors now filtering out of Brazil indicate that labor unions and supporters of the country's former chief executive, Dr. Juscelino Kubitschek, plan to stage massive street rallies and work stoppages in at least six major cities the weekend of Nov. 20-21.

Britain Facing Sea of Troubles

By MARQUIS CHILDS

LONDON — In the face of a sea of troubles, the rule in Britain is not just the traditional stiff upper lip. It is rather to count whatever blessings are visible and try to insure that others will turn up.

Despite Rhodesia and the threat of a white versus black war, there are tangible blessings. The gold and dollar reserve is up more than anyone had hoped and the pound is showing strength on the world money market. London, with its crowded shops beginning to fill up for the pre-Christmas binge and monstrous traffic jams that promise to bring the whole place to a standstill, reflects the new confidence.

On high ground for the time being, it has been a perilous passage. In the late summer, the pound was under such savage attack and gold reserves were slipping so fast that all seemed lost. At this critical moment, Lord Cromer, Governor of the Bank of England, flew to Basel, Switzerland, to play Daniel in the den of the lions growing ominously for the central banks of Europe.

The imperturbable Cromer, the essence of the Establishment in its old undiluted form, is credited with a masterful performance. Timed to follow was a rescue operation from Washington headed by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Fowler. With his Southern drawl and his outward air of the innocent American abroad, the essence of the Johnsonian Establishment, Fowler is given high marks for his part in saving the pound as one of the world's two international currencies and thereby forestalling chaos and an intolerable new burden on the dollar.

BUT FOR ALL the outward signs of confident prosperity the way ahead is still long and hard. A Labor government with a majority of one in the House of Commons must try to hold down wages and increase productivity per man hour by measures the trade unions resist to the bitter end. Caught between economic and political pressures, George Brown, Minister of Economic Affairs, seems often to be robbing Peter to pay Paul. Thus, to avoid a rise in the price of coal to householders, he has announced a subsidy to the state-owned coal industry.

These are at best stopgap measures that only postpone a day of reckoning for a nation that must sell its goods in ever more competitive markets in order to live. Moreover, the great strain is in the struggle now going on to try to cut Britain's world commitments to fit a defense budget of nearly $6 billion. Whether this means erasing virtually all British outposts east of Suez as some Tory spokesmen have suggested is still undetermined.

THE ONEROUS task of fitting the once far flung apparatus of power into a straitjacket of economy falls on Minister of Defense Dennis Healey. One of the ablest members of the Wilson cabinet, Healey is preparing to give the whole defense establishment such a shakeup as it has never had. But for the coming year at least, the economies must be minimal since the thin line still holding in various corners of the globe cannot be abruptly sheared away.

And just now Healey and his defense planners are aroused over the ubiquitous German issue. The news that the German defense budget is being cut by nearly $240 million dollars was a shock that soon gave way to indignation. This is while Britain still keeps 55,000 troops on German soil at a heavy cost in foreign exchange and when the intimation that a single battalion might be withdrawn brings cries of outrage. By British calculation the Germans are putting roughly 6 percent of their gross national product into national defense. The figure for Britain is 7 to 8 percent. For the United States it is not less than 10 percent and with the rapidly rising cost of the Viet Nam war this may soon be 11 to 12 percent.

BEHIND THESE statistics is a chilling fact. Uncle Sam, as policeman to the world, if that is the role he chooses to fill, must take up more and more of the burden. That has been the order of the day ever since President Truman enunciated the doctrine for Greece and Turkey and picked up the responsibility for stemming the Communist tide.

In private talks here one can hear many criticisms of the way Uncle Sam is exercising his role as policeman and notably in Viet Nam. In Malaysia the British have 55,000 troops standing with a force of Malaysians against 100,000 Indonesians. Using the tactics of patrol and infiltration, not a single bomb has been dropped. In the British view this is the only tactic that can for the long pull succeed in winning a guerrilla war.

THE CRITICISMS are, however, carefully muted for any possibility that the policeman might retire or even curtail his beat is cause for concern. As the old national rivalries come to life again, the concept of a shared responsibility recedes. That must be from the American viewpoint an unhappy prospect.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it harmful to take mineral oil indefinitely? I take two tablespoons a day to keep me regular. Could this be bad for the gall bladder, or for colitis, which I have? — L. K.

Mineral oil appears to be able to absorb Vitamin A in the intestinal tract, therefore by taking it regularly you deprive yourself of the full benefits of this vitamin.

I'm not totally opposed to mineral oil. It will not affect the gall bladder, and it decidedly does have its uses in treatment of colitis, but not daily in large amounts.

NOTE TO MRS. C. F.: Friends who tell you that 30 is too late to start a family are wrong. And no, there is no tendency to have retarded children at 30.

Winona Deaths

Mrs. Sylvia M. Rogers
Mrs. Sylvia M. Rogers, 85, 829 W. 5th St., died at 8:10 a.m. today at Community Memorial Hospital after an illness of one week.

The former Sylvia Howell, she was born July 4, 1880, in London, England. She came to this country when she was 8, lived at Peoria, Ill., and had lived here 50 years. Married to Sidney Rogers who died Oct. 29, 1951, she was a member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

She had lived with a daughter, Mrs. Harold Richter, 14 years.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Harold (Pauline) Richter, Winona, and Mrs. Lyle (Helen) Nelson, Winona; one granddaughter, Mrs. Leslie (Barbara) Lundell, Cannon Falls, and two sisters, Mrs. Emma Johnston and Mrs. Maude Holland, Kansas City, Mo.

Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Monday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, the Rev. George Goodred officiating. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery.

There will be no visitation. Arrangements are being completed by Fawcett Funeral Home. A memorial is being arranged.

Winona Funerals

Mrs. Marion Queisser

Friends may call at the funeral home this afternoon and evening. Rosary will be said by Msgr. Dittman and the Catholic Daughters of America at 8 p.m.

Spring Grove Man Reported in Good Condition
SPRING GROVE, Minn. (Special) — A Spring Grove turkey farmer is reported in satisfactory condition today after receiving internal and facial injuries in a near head-on collision.

James Evenson, 50, underwent surgery for a torn liver at St. Francis Hospital, La Crosse, Sunday night. He was on the critical list the first of the week. He also received facial injuries.

Evenson was proceeding north on a township road Saturday at 11 a.m. At the crest of a hill the left front of his 1955 car and the 1957 car driven by Matthew Schiltz, Caledonia, collided on the gravel surfaced road.

Neither man was thrown and Schiltz apparently wasn't badly injured. He didn't go to the hospital. Their cars were listed as damaged beyond repair by Houston County Sheriff Byron Whitehouse.

Another patient from Spring Grove is Gregory Roverud, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roverud, who underwent knee surgery at Lutheran Hospital, La Crosse. Other patients there from Spring Grove have been Mrs. Harold Gulbranson, Mrs. Earl Munkel and Mrs. James Ramlo.

Oscar Burreson, James Larson and Iver Thorson are patients at Veterans Hospital, Minneapolis.

Gilford H. Morken, custodian at the high school, fractured a hip when he fell from a ladder there and is a patient at Tweeten Memorial Hospital here.

tures Saturday through Wednesday will average 4-10 degrees below normal highs of 31-38 north, 36-43 south and normal lows of 17-21 north, 21-26 south; cold over the weekend, followed by a warming early next week and then cold again by mid-week. Precipitation will average 25 to 50 of an inch occurring in snow flurries Saturday and in another period of rain or snow about Tuesday.

WISCONSIN — Temperatures Saturday through Wednesday will average 2 to 6 degrees below normal. Normal high is 34 to 42 north, 41 to 46 south. Normal low is 20 to 28. Colder over the weekend, warming briefly early next week. More than one-half inch of precipitation rain or snow likely after the weekend.

John Silverness
MONDOVI, Wis. (Special) — John Silverness, 90, died Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Luther Hospital, Eau Claire, where he had been a patient since Oct. 26 with a fractured hip.

He was born Sept. 17, 1875, in Bennett Valley, Buffalo County, to Mr. and Mrs. Nels Silverness. He married Julia Dreyse of Pepin County in 1897. She died in September 1950.

Mr. Silverness was one of the first in the Mondovi area to sell petroleum products and was active in politics.

He operated the family homestead farm until 1922, then moved into Mondovi. He was employed by Mondovi Equity until 1943 and served farmers in five counties with products, particularly petroleum.

He was one of the early supporters of the Progressive party in Wisconsin and later helped organize the Democratic party in Buffalo County. He was interested in North Dakota politics because of his boyhood association with a then governor, Old Olson.

A charter member and former trustee of West Bennett Valley Lutheran Church, he now was one of the oldest members of Mirror Lake Lodge 163, Knights of Pythias, and Central Lutheran Church.

Survivors are: Two daughters, Mrs. Melvin C. Johnson, Gilmanston, and Mrs. Fred (Alice) Lee, Mondovi; three grandchildren, eight great-grandchildren and one brother, Nels Alvin, Horicon, Wis.

Funeral services will be Sunday at 2 p.m. at Central Lutheran Church, the Rev. Harold Haugland officiating. Burial will be in Oak Park Cemetery. Friends may call after 3 p.m. Saturday at Kjentvet & Son Funeral Home and after noon Sunday at the church.

Cathedral Adds Mass for Students At Winona State

A special Sunday Mass for Catholic students at Winona State College has been added to the state of Masses at Cathedral of the Sacred Heart.

The Mass will be at 5:15 p.m., according to the Rev. Martin Olsen, Newman Club chaplain. College students will usher, serve at the Mass and lead in the singing. Father Olsen will conduct the services which will be on an experimental basis starting this Sunday.

A dinner for the students will be held in Holy Family Hall after the service Sunday.

Wire Taken From Farm at Pickwick

Darrel Larson, Dakota, reported today at 9:15 a.m. that about 500 feet of telephone and electric wire have been stolen from an abandoned farm in Pickwick Valley, Sheriff George L. Fort said.

Larson said that the wire was taken within the past two weeks from the lead-ins to the old Huff farm from the main line. He told Sheriff Fort that there is evidence of pole climbers having been used.

The wire was clipped from a post and the farm buildings. No one has lived on the farm more than 10 years, Larson said. Sheriff Fort is investigating.

Mercury to Dip Near 20 Tonight

A touch of winter, a harbinger of what's to follow, is forecast for Winona and vicinity tonight and Saturday.

After a few brief snow flurries scheduled for early tonight, a partial clearing is expected to set in and be followed by much colder weather. It'll be partly cloudy and cold Saturday.

A LOW OF 20-25 is forecast for tonight and a high of 35 for Saturday. Sunday, said the weatherman, will see a slight warming up and no precipitation.

When a storm passing over Minnesota was bringing snow and cold weather to many northern points, temperatures remained balmy here with more than half an inch (.67) of rain falling overnight.

The temperature Thursday afternoon was 53 and this morning 52. At noon the reading was 51. The shower, although generous, was not enough to boost rainfall for the month to the one-inch mark. Rainfall in November to date is only .88 of an inch.

THE EXTENDED forecast, predictions through next Wednesday, indicates average temperatures for Southeastern Minnesota and Western Wisconsin will run 4 to 10 degrees below normal daily highs of 36-43 and nighttime lows of 21-26 with cold weather over the weekend, followed by a warming trend early next week.

Precipitation in the same time is predicted to range up to half an inch occurring in snow flurries Saturday and in another period of rain or snow about Tuesday.

A year ago today the Winona high was 71 and the low 52 with .02 in rain. All-time high for Nov. 12 was 67 in 1902 and the low for the day 6 in 1896. Mean for the past 24 hours was 44 in contrast with the average mean of 36.

The rain was generally over the half-inch mark in most area communities and was distributed as follows:

Minnesota	Wisconsin
Lake City . . . . .64	Alma . . . . .94
Wabasha . . . . .63	Trempealeau . . . . .57

Overnight lows ranged from 34 degrees in the Superior area to 47 at Beloit.

THE NATION'S high reading Thursday was 81 at Key West, Fla. The low this morning was 3 at Havre, Mont.

Trucker Hurt On Highway 61

LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special) — A 27-year-old South St. Paul truck driver was reported in satisfactory condition at noon today at Lake City Municipal Hospital after receiving multiple lacerations and contusions when the vehicle missed a curve because of wet concrete.

William Masters was proceeding upriver with a Warnke cattle semi. His tractor jackknifed and went off Highway 61 near the Miller Creek bridge just south of the overpass leading into Lake City from the south. The tractor is reported a total loss but the trailer undamaged. Empty, it was proceeding from Winona to the St. Paul stockyards.

The truck went off to the right, landing in the ditch. The accident happened between 11 p.m. Thursday and midnight. The Highway Patrol investigated.

2 Evangelists To Speak at Meetings Here

Two evangelists will be guest speakers during a soul winning and revival conference at First Church of Christ here Wednesday and Thursday.

They are Galen Skinner, president of the Minnesota Bible College, and Richard Laue, minister of the Englewood Christian Church, Indianapolis, Ind. This is one of the largest Christian Churches in the United States.

Skinner will speak at 7 p.m. Wednesday with the opening message, Laue will speak on "Digging God's Wells" at 8 p.m. Laue will speak on "Effective Soul Winning" at 10 a.m. Thursday and Laue at 3 p.m. on "We Have Heard With Our Ears — Our Fathers Have Told Us." A panel discussion will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday. Skinner will close the conference at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

More than 100 ministers and laymen from Minnesota and Wisconsin will attend. Clergy and laymen from Winona have been invited.

German Native To Speak Here

Mrs. Anneliese Opitz, Rochester, will conduct the morning service at the Grace Presbyterian Church at 10:30 a.m.

Mrs. Opitz, born and raised in Berlin, Germany, graduated from the Theological School of the University of Bonn and received her degree of doctor of theology in 1959.

During the summer of 1954 she was in the U.S. on the staff of the press and broadcasting committee of the second assembly of the World Council of Churches at Evanston, Ill. From 1959 to 1961 she worked at the national headquarters of the Student Christian Movement in Germany, first as a traveling secretary working with students at teacher training colleges and later as international secretary for the Student Christian Movement in Germany and as assistant general secretary.

Mrs. Opitz is the wife of Dr. J. L. Opitz, on the staff of the Mayo Clinic. She immigrated to the United States in 1961. During 1962-63 she taught intermediate German at St. Olaf College, Northfield.

NEW SCHOOL . . . The new educational unit of the American Lutheran Church at Arcadia has been completed. The unit includes classrooms, pastor's study and assembly rooms. The building is attached to the church. (Mrs. Franklin Sobotta photo)

Arcadia Lutherans Add Education Unit

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special) — The $70,000 educational unit built by American Lutheran Church here now is in use.

The basement includes five classrooms and a large assembly room in which can be converted into three separate classrooms.

THE TOP floor contains three classrooms, another large assembly which can be converted to three classrooms, study and pastor's office, the janitor's room, and lavatories.

Window casings, paneling and doors are finished in natural oak. The exterior is constructed of steel, concrete and wire cut brick matching the church.

E. F. Klingler, Eau Claire, was architect and engineer. Donald Stevenson had the $51,028 general construction contract; Kube Plumbing the mechanical and plumbing at $9,800, and Wally's Electric, the electrical contract at $3,718. All are Arcadia firms.

Ground breaking ceremonies were held Palm Sunday, officiating with the pastor, the Rev. Howard Benson, was the building committee, consisting of Leonard Lien, president, Frank Kube, Galen Hessler, Clifford Thronson, Melvin Lorch, Harry Trowbridge and John Weltzien. Construction began in May.

Dedication was conducted Oct. 31 by Dr. Theodore A. Ohlrogge, Appleton, president of the Northern Wisconsin District of the American Lutheran Church. The Rev. Harold Haugland, Mondovi, president of the Mondovi Conference, extended the greeting. Also participating were the Rev. Marshall Hall, Independence, chairman of the pastoral conference; the Rev. Roger Herfindahl, Trempealeau, and the Rev. Walter E. Schultheis, Marshfield, former pastor here.

Approximately 170 children are enrolled in the Sunday school. Teachers are: Mmes. Gordon Schultz, Orvil Rusch, Wilmer Putz, John Hohmann, Myrtle Solberg, Wayne Doenier, LaVern Kreher, George Glanzer, Howard Benson and Orlan Erickson; Miss Ruth Servais; Trowbridge, and Pastor Benson.

Ermine Hall Allen, a former member of the St. Paul Civic Opera, will present a spiritual concert at First Baptist Church here at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

A native of St. Paul, she received musical training at Macalester College and the Minneapolis College of Music with private tutoring from Mary A. Branstad, Florence Loftus and Lady Metzger.

She was a soloist at Pilgrim Baptist Church, St. Paul, when she was 16, and has been a member of the St. Paul Civic Opera and the St. Paul Opera workshops. For 16 years she has appeared at the St. Paul Auditorium pop concerts. Her husband is an insurance executive at St. Paul. The public is invited to the concert.

2 New Mormon Elders Arrive

Two new missionaries for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (Mormon) have started their work here.

They are Elder Fred Anderson, Othello, Wash., and Elder Ryon Bingham, Plain City, Utah. They will be in the community four to six months to present a program on "Panorama of Mormonism." They also will be taking surveys and asking people's opinions on religion.

Elder Anderson said this new approach to the Mormons' missionary work is their part in the world movement for better understanding. In their new approach they will present the basic beliefs and the background of the church and sing songs. They will be available to present their program to college groups, church groups and civic organizations.

All men in the Mormon Church devote two years of their life to missionary work at their own expense. After completion of their mission work, they return to their lay life.

Anderson, who has been in the mission field, eight months, plans to return to Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah, to study pre-veterinary medicine.

This is Bingham's first mission field. After completing his tour of duty with the Army, he worked in a rock quarry. He plans to attend school after completion of his mission work.

PROUD MOMENT . . . It was a proud moment for David Arnoldy, Rollingstone, Minn., Thursday evening, as he became the first Boy Scout in Rollingstone to receive the Eagle award. He received the award from Scoutmaster John Theis, right. With the new Eagle Scout are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Arnoldy. (Daily News photo)

First Eagle Scout Named At Rollingstone

ROLLINGSTONE, Minn. — Rollingstone has its first Eagle Scout in more than 20 years of Scouting activity here.

He is David Arnoldy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Arnoldy, who received his Eagle Scout award here Thursday evening. A member of Troop 17, David has held several offices in the troop and has received the Ad Altare Dei church award. He is a senior at Holy Trinity High School, treasurer of the Sodality, a member of the St. Nicholas Society and a Mass server.

He attended the national jamboree at Valley Forge in 1964, is presently junior assistant Scoutmaster of his troop, and served as a staff member of Camp Hok-Si-La, Lake City. Troop Scoutmaster John Theis presented David with his award.

Legion to Hold Remodeling Party Saturday Night

"A 'Bust-up' party will be held at the American Legion Memorial Club Saturday night, according to the club president Dr. Donald T. Burt.

A lounge remodeling program will begin Monday. "We don't actually want to 'bust up' anything," said Dr. Burt, "but we do want to say goodbye to the old club facilities."

Present equipment has been sold or will be sold. The Hoyer-Schuh-Benickie trio will play for dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Tonight a pre-Thanksgiving party will be held beginning at 9.

Court Reverses Order Favoring Pipe Line Firm

ST. PAUL (AP) — An order of the state Board of Tax Appeals in favor of Great Lakes Pipe Line Co., Kansas City, Mo., was reversed today by the Minnesota Supreme Court.

Basic issue was whether the company's income from securities investments should come under the Minnesota franchise tax, along with income from regular pipeline operations.

The state tax commissioner originally said such investment income should be taxed, the Board of Tax Appeals disagreed, and now the Supreme Court upholds the commissioner.

The company had appealed from orders of the tax commissioner seeking additional taxes from 1955 through 1959. In 1955, for example, the company paid $51,311.85 on its Minnesota operations but the tax commissioner sought an additional payment of $2,125.72 plus interest.

The court said the pipeline

Wisconsin Lutheran Synod Will Send Pastor to Viet Nam

A memorial service, bake sale, piano recital and a topic presentation were highlights of the Wednesday evening meeting of the St. Matthew's Woman's Club.

MRS. Gilbert Matson, hospitality chairman, reported that plans are under way to send a minister to the Viet Nam area and that 25 contact centers have been established in 18 states to serve the Wisconsin Lutheran Synod's men in the armed forces. She said that about 3,000 men are receiving recorded sermons, synod newsletters, devotional meditation booklets and other church publications through the Spiritual Welfare Commission at the Synod's expense.

IN THE United States, pastors from towns near bases serve the men, she said, and are now allowed to conduct services on the base at their churches expense. In many instances they provide transportation to their own churches instead, she concluded.

THE REV. A. L. Mennicke answered questions regarding the topic presentation. He also led memorial devotions in tribute to the late Mrs. Otto Brandt.

A short business meeting included discussion of the supper to follow the Candlelight Song service on the church's anniversary Dec. 12 at 4:30 p.m. Miss Kathleen Skeels, church organist, presented two piano selections. Mrs. Louis Walther and Mrs. Edwin Schuppenhauer arranged the program. Refreshments were served by the Mmes. Amanda Hilke, John Reza, Donald Skeels and Clarence Fiedler.

Women of the congregation are invited to attend the Dec. 9 meeting, which is a Christmas party.

IN COLLEGE PLAY... Two of the leading roles in "Ah Wilderness!" the O'Neill play which opened Thursday night for a five-night run at the College of Saint Teresa, are taken by Miss Jacqueline Szopinski of Oak Park, Ill., who has the part of Essie, and Steven Andersen, Winona State College student, who plays Nat. (Harriet J. Kelley Photo)

"AH WILDERNESS!" DELIGHTFUL

Imported Male Leads Dominate Teresan Theatrical Success

By JOHN R. BREITLOW

Apply the talents of a skilled director and superbly-cast, enthusiastic actors to the time-proven script of a great playwright and the result is delightful theater—an accurate description of Eugene O'Neill's nostalgic comedy Ah, Wilderness! as presented Thursday evening by the College of Saint Teresa, the first of five consecutive performances.

Ah, Wilderness! was Eugene O'Neill's lone departure from the strange and often tormented style that characterized his powerful drama. The play is a fond glimpse of middle-class America when this troubled century was still young and innocent. Under the direction of Richard J. Weiland, it plays very well indeed, and is especially well-paced.

The play is completely dominated by the male leads. Not only is the script stacked in their favor, but what they do with it is joyous to behold. Among Steven Andersen from Winona State, Thomas Smith from St. Mary's and Roy Achter from KWNO, it is difficult to decide who is best among equals.

AS NAT Miller, father of the family, Steven Andersen portrays a Connecticut Yankee to dry and subtle perfection. His slightly-twangd voice, his smooth movements, his declamatory facial gestures and unerring reactions, all are nothing short of professional.

Roy Achter has the most fun. As Nat's charming, never-dowd brother-in-law Sid Davis, he gets laughs on nearly every line of his broad characterization. Even though he did not play the character for everything it had, he still nearly stopped the show on several occasions. It is awesome to think what might have happened had he played it to the hilt.

The most demanding role was handled with fine sensitivity by Thomas Smith as he created Richard, the turn-of-the-century teenager just discovering life with a capital L. In his performance were blended all the innocence, sincerity, frustration, and clumsy, unintended humor of that awkward time between youth and manhood.

THE BEST of the play's many good scenes featured Richard and his girl Muriel McComber, charmingly played by Carrie Benoit. Running this gem a close second were two wonderful bits by Roy Achter; Sid Davis in cups at the supper table making marvelous fun of his brother-in-law and himself, and then nursing a colossal hangover in loud, ominous silence the morning after.

Among the ladies, Jacqueline Szopinski gave a strong performance as the mother of the Miller family while Mary Leith was a convincing brat of a younger sister. Joan Petzka did well in the role of long-suffering Lily Miller, who could not abandon her chosen career of mothering Sid long enough to marry him and straighten him out. Frances Bowler's ample and obvious Belle, the Edwardian "B" Girl, almost saved the barroom scene.

DIANNE Wrocklage's sets were effective and showed attention to period flavor, but were not always helped by the lighting and effects. Miss Eileen Whalen's costumes were well-tailored, tastefully traditional, and (with one exception for the Sons of Eli) completely appropriate. The between-scenes music of Gayle Viehman and Patricia Coughlin provided a pleasant period atmosphere. But for all the quality of this production in which everyone involved shares, the real star of Ah, Wilderness! is unquestionably Eugene O'Neill. Every scene is stolen by his artistry in making endless cliches and corny situations into wonderfully appropriate dialogue and smooth development of characters he obviously loved, if only just this once.

Turkey Festival Set for Sunday At Dakota Church

DAKOTA, Minn. (Special) — The annual turkey festival at Holy Cross Church will be Sunday starting at 2 p.m. Ten turkeys will be given as prizes.

Valentine Niedbalski heads the publicity work of the men's group. Mrs. Niedbalski is in charge of the bazaar and country store. Mrs. George Bils-kemper, Mrs. John R. Theising and Miss Thecla Behrens will assist.

At a recent meeting of the women of Holy Cross parish it was learned that the floor renovation project has been completed, including new carpeting in the sanctuary and church aisles. Stained glass windows in the church have been leaded and wood surfaces recoated. William Meiers and Mr. Niedbalski did the work on the stained windows.

Clothing for the annual Thanksgiving drive is to be brought to the church dining hall after Sunday, but no later than Nov. 30. Mrs. Paul Plapp will revise and update the work sheets for women of the parish. Hostesses and in charge of church maintenance for November are the Mmes. Glen Goetting, Harold Thienes, Elroy Nissalke, Robert Richards and Art Kehoe.

'The Lute Song' To Be Enacted At St. Charles

ST. CHARLES, Minn. (Special) — "The Lute Song," a play set to music which is based on an ancient Chinese drama and adapted by Will Irwin and others, is being presented today and Saturday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium by the junior class of St. Charles High School.

The play is based on a Chinese stage classic, "Pi-Pa-Ki" as famous in its land as Hamlet is here. The story dates back beyond the year 1404 when an adaptation was presented by Mao-Taou for the Imperial Court in Peking.

In the cast are Elliott Hawk, who narrates and also plays an important role; Dave Hinkley, a brilliant young scholar; Keith O'Brien, the father; Judy Bergh, mother of the scholar; Virginia Ask, the scholar's wife, around whom most of the story action revolves; Paul Olson, a prince, and Mary Hildebrand as his daughter, Princess Niou-Chi. There are a number of other lesser roles.

The performance is under the direction of Roger Tenda, of the English department, Clyde Edgar, of the music department, and Mary Burke, student director. Mrs. Sondra Johnson is directing the make-up crew.

Sundeen-Brenna Vows Exchanged At Mabel Church

MABEL, Minn. — Miss Karen Louise Brenna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Brenna, Mabel, and Stephen Karl Sundeen, Waynesboro, Va., son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Sundeen, Duluth, Minn., were married Oct. 23 at Mabel First Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Bruce Boyce received their vows. Miss Hazel Shervin was organist.

Mrs. Gilbert Bergsrud, Union Lake, Mich., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Tom Sundeen, Duluth, brother of the groom, was best man and John Brenna, Mabel, brother of the bride, ushered.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. A reception held in the church parlors was hosted by the bride's parents. The groom's parents hosted a reception in their home in Duluth.

The bride attended Mabel High School. Her husband attended Denfeld High School. Both attended the University of Minnesota. He is a chemical engineer.

DISCUSSING PROBLEMS... Sue Sieg, left, as Clara and Carol Otto, as Gertrude, Osseo (Wis.) High School students, are characters in the play, "Save Me A Place At Forest Lawn," a comedy by Lorees Verby. It will be presented in the district one-act play contest at Eau Claire North High School Saturday. The women, who are in their eighties, are considering their personal problems over lunch in a restaurant. Since winning the local contest in September the girls have presented hit play for PTAs at Foster and Pigeon Falls, Wis. Miss R. Irene Myers is the director. Other schools competing in the district contest are from Eau Claire, North Fall Creek, Bloomer, Cadott, Chetek, Thorp, Owen-Withee, Colfax and Alma Center. (Mrs. James Tilly photo)

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip J. Soller

Soller-Willis Nuptials Held At Galesville

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special) — St. Mary's Catholic Church was the scene of the Nov. 6 wedding of Miss Carolyn Lorraine Willis and Phillip J. Soller. The Rev. Joseph Brake officiated.

Parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Willis, Town of Gale, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Soller, La Crosse.

The bride was attended by the Misses Sallie Kastenschmidt, Yvonne Willis, Karen Kramer and Jane Soller. They wore forest-green dresses with velvet bodices and soft crepe cameo skirts. The empire waistlines were accented with lace. Cabbage rose headresses held their bouffant silk illusion veils and they carried yellow roses and bronze pompons with croton leaves.

The bride wore a cameo peau gown trimmed with chrysanthemum pearls and lace which featured a chapel train. She wore a bouffant veil and carried a crescent bouquet of yellow Sweetheart roses and English ivy.

Attending the groom were Fred Bahr, Richard Soller, James LaFore and Jerry Sande. Ushers were Robert Soller and Raymond Kramer.

Dinner was served to 75 in the church dining room. A reception for 350 was held at the Knights of Pythias hall, La Crosse.

Following a wedding trip to Minneapolis, the newlyweds will reside in La Crosse. The groom is employed by the All-Chalmers Co.

Prenuptial parties were given the bride-elect by Mrs. Peter Soller and Mrs. Robert Soller; Misses Yvonne Willis and Karen Kramer, and by the young women employed at the Ed Phillips and Sons Co., where the bride is employed.

Robert Flemings Honored by 200 On Golden Year

More than 200 attended the open house at McKinley Methodist Church Oct. 31 to honor Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fleming, 3945 6th St., Goodview on their golden wedding anniversary.

Their attendants, Mrs. L. D. (Ella) Wightman, sister of the groom, and Robert Hill, brother of the bride, were present. Others attended from Waseca, Rochester, Pemberton, Mankato, Janesville, Houston, Lewiston, Altura, Rollingstone, Stockton, Minnesota City, Minn., and Sparta, Fountain City and Janesville, Wis., Colorado Springs, Colo., and Vallejo, Calif.

THE HONORED couple was married Nov. 25, 1915, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hill, near Lewiston. They have one son, Lt. Col. Dale R. Fleming, Colorado Springs, three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. A son, Edward, died six years ago and a daughter, Ar-

St. Stan's Bazaar Slated For Nov. 20-22

Committees were appointed Monday night for the annual fall bazaar Nov. 20-22 at St. Stanislaus Catholic Church.

Mrs. E. E. Valentine is general chairman of the bazaar which will open with a bake sale Nov. 20 at 1 p.m. Mrs. Wilbert Prigge and Mrs. Joseph Orzechowski are co-chairmen, assisted by members of Mary Martha Guild.

Mrs. Joseph Kulasiewicz and Mrs. John Peplinski will have charge of the roast beef dinner Nov. 21, starting at 4 p.m. Mrs. Joseph Masyga and Mrs. Arthur Speltz will supervise the dining room and Mrs. John Glodowski and Mrs. Henry Dotterwich will have charge of table decorations.

LUNCHEONS, which will be served each evening of the bazaar, will be supervised by Mrs. Alex Pellowski. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Donahue will be in charge of the soft drink concessions. Mrs. John Czaplewski will supervise the games to be held each day. Mrs. Victoria Galewski and Mrs. Edmund Dulek are in charge of the booth for St. Helen's Guild, featuring handmade quilts and other fancy work.

The parcel post booth, sponsored by St. Anne's Guild, will be handled by Mrs. Chester Lukaszewski and Mrs. Stan Rivers. The Home School Association, with Mrs. Kenneth Pablocki as chairman, will sponsor the country store.

Under the direction of Mrs. Florence Carlson and Mrs. John Glodowski, members of St. Jude's Guild will be in charge of the fishing pond as well as the homemade candy booth. Cotter School students, under the direction of Mrs. Valentine, will take charge of the treasure chest.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. N. F. Grulkowski gave the opening prayer and also a short pep talk to members of the various societies at the Monday night meeting. Sister Mary Rita, principal, Sister Mary Rita and Sister Mary Anthonia attended.

death, died at the age of 13 months.

Mr. and Mrs. Fleming farmed at Brookings, S.D. for many years. They came to Minnesota City in 1933 where Mr. Fleming was a star mail carrier for more than 20 years.

Oct. 31 also was the 50th anniversary of the 1915 graduating class of Winona General Hospital, of which Mrs. Fleming (Myrtle Hill) was a member. Mrs. Lee Rollins (Irene Nissen) and Mrs. Frank Dumlal (Augusta Seivert), classmates, attended the open house.

Four Items on Agenda at Lively Session of Business Women's Club

Winona Business and Professional Women's Club, at a dinner meeting Tuesday evening at Hotel Winona, had a lively session and stimulating program.

A panel discussion on "Remotivation" was given by local career women.

MISS JONELLE Millam, a senior at Winona State College, was given a signal honor.

Miss Mabel Dudley, long-time member of the club, was lauded for her distinguished record.

A visiting BPWC member from Seoul, Korea, gave an amazing report of her club's work with children of lepers.

Mrs. Russell Dackin of the personal development committee, who was moderator for the panel, defined remotivation as the re-awakening of motivation, which in Webster's Dictionary is "providing with a motive, impelling, inciting."

PANELISTS were Miss Maureen Boland, travel counselor for the American Automobile Association; Miss Mildred Bartsch, faculty member, Winona State College; and Mrs. Lawrence Breitbach, city welfare commissioner.

Miss Boland outlined her work in AAA, which she said is "interesting and rewarding." "Appearance, good manners and courtesy are important and make a good place to start in remotivation, I believe, and can be applied to anyone in any line of work."

MISS BARTSCH stated that "modern society is geared for the educated person. . . It has little to offer dropouts. We need to know how to furnish motivation to young people . . . and make them desire better lives for themselves." Miss Bartsch told of the work being done by business firms, the government and individuals to aid people desiring higher education. She cited instances where good teachers had provided motivation to pupils.

Mrs. Breitbach talked on her work in the social welfare field, particularly in rehabilitation of needy persons, such as a child under Aid to Dependent Children, a mother of a family being helped to make the best use of her funds, a man who can learn to use his talents for his livelihood and thus regain his pride and dignity.

In her work, Mrs. Breitbach said, it is important that there be mutual understanding between client and worker. "We must always analyze ourselves with a critical eye for improvement," she added.

MISS EDNA Nelson gave the tribute to Miss Millam, presenting her with a corsage and enumerating her many accomplishments which led the BPWC to honor her as an outstanding student and community worker.

These included her scholastic record at Winona Senior High School and at WSC, her participation in instrumental and vocal music, activity in various organizations and winning of scholarships.

In addition to her work now as a senior at WSC, Miss Millam teaches choir at Holy Trinity High School at Rollingstone, Minn., is organist for Grace Presbyterian Church and teaches piano to 16 students. She plans to continue teaching music and later do graduate work.

MISS MILLAM, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Millam, 1215 W. Broadway, played a piano solo.

Miss Rose Schettler, president, who conducted a brief business session after the program, reported that honors had been given to Miss Mabel Dudley at Paul Watkins Memorial Methodist Home, where she resides.

Miss Schettler on Tuesday afternoon presented Miss Dudley with a corsage for her faithful membership and work for the Winona BPWC. Miss Dudley joined in 1920 and served on many committees during the years. Since 1948, she has served as research chairman of the club, editing and compiling the annual year book.

"She is a fine example of a good member, doing what she can to help the club. Miss Dudley was one of the best saleswomen the club has ever had for projects, selling tickets years ago when movies were sponsored by the club and in later years selling nuts and candy as money-making projects," Miss Schettler said.

MRS. RUTH Markie introduced Miss Katherine King, sister of Mrs. Hans Freudenthal, both of whom were guests. Miss King is membership chairman of the BPWC of Seoul, here on leave from her job with the Eighth Army.

She talked on the project sponsored by her club — providing for the non-leprosy children of leper parents.

They live on an island off Korea, where they are in the care of a Maryknoll priest and Korean Nuns. Various organizations contribute drugs, clothing and food, but the Seoul BPWC provides the only cash the colony has to work with.

this year netted $1,600.

Devotions preceding the dinner were given by Miss Ruth Hoefs, who gave a prayer in tribute to veterans.

Mrs. Ruth Seavey was chairman of the committee for the evening, aided by Misses Helen Robb and Janet Newcomb and Mrs. Dackin.

St. Casimir's Bazaar Slated For Two Days

The 59th annual fall bazaar of St. Casimir's Parish will be Sunday and Monday.

Women of the parish will serve a light supper Sunday, starting at 5 p.m. and continuing throughout the evening.

Mrs. John Czaplewski is in charge of arrangements. A lunch will be served Monday for "Ladies Afternoon." The Mmes. Raymond Kulasiewicz, Ernie Brose and Roman Kaldunski will be in charge. Featured will be homemade baked goods and candy along with many useful household articles, poultry and quilts.

IN CHARGE of the bake booth will be the Mmes. S. O. Newman, Frank Knopik and William Pellowski. Barbara Lukowski and Rita Rompa will serve at the candy booth. Handmade quilts, turkeys and fryers will be given as prizes on both days. Refreshments will be available throughout the bazaar under the direction of Joe Scanlan.

John Czaplewski is in charge of re-staging the physical layout of the bazaar quarters. Entertainment for both days will be handled by David Pellowski, James Theis, Jule Schneider, Roman Kaldunski, Clarence Losinske, James Kukowski, Paul Libera and Eugene Schoener.

JOB'S DAUGHTERS

Bethel 8, International Order of Job's Daughters, will serve a fried chicken dinner to members and friends at 6 p.m. Monday in the Masonic Temple. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Harris Carlson. Honored Queen Cindi Hammer will preside at the meeting and initiation ceremony at 7:30.

They live on an island off Korea, where they are in the care of a Maryknoll priest and Korean Nuns. Various organizations contribute drugs, clothing and food, but the Seoul BPWC provides the only cash the colony has to work with.

MISS KING said her club of 25 members raised the funds through an annual raffle, which

Mrs. Thomson Elected Head Of Rose Society

Mrs. R. M. Thomson was elected president of the Winona Rose Society Wednesday evening at Lake Park Lodge.

OTHERS elected were Karl P. Lipsch, vice president; Mrs. C. A. Rohrer, secretary; Mrs. George Modjeski, treasurer, and Mrs. Syrus Johnson, director.

Oscar Lindstrom was appointed chairman of the Come-As-A-Rose Dinner scheduled for Jan. 12 at which each member will come dressed to represent a named variety of rose.

Two films were shown. "Living with Roses" gave instructions for planning rose gardens and care of roses and "A Gift of Roses" explained growing roses in greenhouses and showed how roses could be used in arrangements.

FRANCIS JILK conducted a discussion of the pros and cons of the new method of using rose cones for winter protection.

A social hour followed. Lunch was served by the Mmes. Oscar Tillman, A. H. Maze, H. W. Langenberg and Francis Jilk.

Former Caledonian To Be Presented In Concert Sunday

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special) — Mrs. David L. Hanson, Minneapolis, the former Frances Ann Joerg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Joerg, Caledonia, will give a piano concert in St. Mary's Auditorium at 3 p.m. Sunday. The concert is open to the public.

Mrs. Hanson's appearance here will be one of the pre-holiday cultural events at Caledonia. She will play "Sonata in F Minor," Beethoven; "Valse Nobles et Sentimentales," Ravel; and "Sonata in A Major," Prokofiev.

Mrs. Hanson will receive her master's degree in fine arts from the University of Minnesota in December. She is currently assisting in teaching piano at the University and hopes to continue her musical studies in New York City. She is a graduate of Caledonia High School.

Rushford ALCW Will Install

RUSHFORD, Minn. (Special) — Officers will be installed when the American Lutheran Church Women meet Dec. 1.

They are: Mrs. Edward Peterson, president; Mrs. Rollins Rasmussen, vice president; Mrs. Palmer Peterson, secretary; Mrs. Edwin Nelson, treasurer; Mrs. James Engrav, secretary of education, and Mrs. Norman Kinneberg, secretary of stewardship.

At the November meeting, Circle A was in charge of the program with the Mmes. Elvin Humble, Bert Jensen, Eva Stevens and Donald Hoegh taking part. Mrs. Clinton Hall gave a book report on "The Giving of Gifts." Mrs. Engrav and Mrs. Stevens were receptionists. Margaret Manion sang. Mrs. Melford Elde, vice president, took charge of the meeting in the absence of Mrs. Kermit Holger, president.

Mrs. D. T. Rollefson, secretary of stewardship, conducted the special thankoffering. Reports were given by Mrs. Palmer Peterson and Mrs. Styk Isberg.

Hostesses were the Mmes. Alfred Froiland, Elvin Humble, Lloyd Sorum, Marvin Manion, Ralph Hammer, Robert Highum, Roy Stevens and Elberta Dubbs.

Warrior Problems: Depth, Defense, Rebounding Skill

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

Make book on Winona State's basketball team and it looks like this:

On the credit side of the ledger is desire, good attitude and hustle. But on the debit chart you find lack of height, defensive and rebounding problems and little depth.

That picture is not unfamiliar, however. In most of Dr. Robert Campbell's five-year stay here, it has been the same.

"Yes, it looks about like last year," said Campbell. "But we are moving along. The kids are hustling. We have a ways to go on execution, but we have just about covered our pre-season plan."

Left before the Nov. 23 opener at Memorial Hall against Stevens Point are learning to use the stall, working on sideline out of bounds plays and jump ball situations — and POLISH.

From now until that Tuesday date when the Warriors open, it will be a steady diet of smoothing the kinks out of what they have already covered.

The team has scheduled its first game-type scrimmage for Saturday. It will be against Ken Wiltgen's St. Mary's team.

Right now it looks as if Campbell will be starting Cotter product Mike Jerecek at center, Tim Anderson and Gary Petersen at forwards and Dave Meisner and J. D. Barnette at guards.

That is the returning quintet of lettermen. Meisner, however, is a question mark. He is being troubled by bronchitis and could miss the Saturday drill.

If that happens, it is likely that Al Connor, 5-9 junior from Lansing, Iowa, or Bill Werner, 6-1 junior from Sumner, Iowa, would share the remaining guard position. Connor, according to Campbell, has exhibited many skills in early-season practices.

Petersen, 6-0 senior from Kasson, Minn., is a question mark again because of knee trouble.

"He is really putting out," praised Campbell. "If he just were healthy, he'd be a great one. As it is, he will probably help us at half or three — quarters effectiveness."

Reviewing the lettermen briefly, Meisner is a 5-9 junior from Cloquet, Minn., Anderson a 6-4 junior from Bangor, Wis., Barnette a 6-3 junior from Chillicothe, Mo., and Jerecek, a 6-6 sophomore from Winona.

Back from last year in addition to Connor and Morgan are 6-3 sophomore forward Jim Kasten, a Winona High grad, and Dennis

Sugar Ray Giving Up Ring Game

NEW YORK (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson finally has decided to hang up the gloves at the age of 45 after 199 fights in a brilliant career that is sure to lead to boxing's Hall of Fame.

The fierce pride of a man who has been acclaimed the best fighter pound-for-pound in recent ring history kept him going long after his contemporaries had quit. It took a decisive beating by young Joey Archer Wednesday night in Pittsburgh to end Ray's dreams of another championship fight.

"I hoped to fight for the championship again," Robinson said Thursday afternoon in his Pittsburgh hotel room before leaving for his New York home. Robinson was stretched out lazily in bed, his head propped on a pillow, his face bearing marks from Archer's stinging left jab. "If I had beaten Archer, I'd have had a chance," Robinson said. Then he added wistfully, "But I didn't win. It's too late to go on another long campaign for another chance."

Badgers Face Tough Illinois

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin's football team, facing more trouble in the Big Ten ranks, clashes with powerful Illinois Saturday in the final home contest of the season.

The Badgers, big losers in their last two conference starts, will have to stop a tough offense that is led by one of the Fighting Illinois' all-time greats, fullback Jim Grabowski.

"We have been working terribly hard all week on defense to stop their fine combination of power and passing," Wisconsin Coach Milt Bruhn said Thursday.

"We're trying to boost our own spirits," said Bruhn, "and making the first score of the game sure would help."

The only similarity between the teams is their Big Ten records — two victories and three defeats.

Grabowski, a senior with professional football ambitions, cracked the Wisconsin defense for a record 239 yards last year in the Illinois' 29-0 victory.

The 219-pound runner could exceed the Illinois record for most rushing attempts in one season during the game. He needs 14 more rushes to top the 194 accumulated by J. C. Caroline in 1953.

Illinois Coach Pete Elliott also can name other talented performers in his starting backfield — quarterback Fred Custardo and halfbacks Sam Price and Cyril Pinder.

Sophomore John Boyajian will carry Wisconsin's hopes as starting quarterback. Boyajian looked impressive in brief appearances the last two weeks and was moved ahead of Chuck Burt.

The young passer will head a backfield that includes Dick Schumitsch at left halfback, Tom Jankowski at fullback and either Dennis Lager or Gay Bandor at wingback.

Seventeen Wisconsin seniors will be making their last appearance in Camp Randall. The Badgers finish their season at Minnesota Nov. 20.

First team defensive men that will be playing their last game here are Capt. Dave Fronek of Antigo, a safety; tackle Bill Masetter of Madison, and Eric Rice of Granville, linebacker Ray Martin of Cicero, Ill., and cornerback Tom Brigham of Two Rivers.

Offensive starters bowing out include split end Louis Jung of Randolph, tackle Chuck Currier of Beloit and halfback Jesse Kaye of Green Bay.

Other players ending their Wisconsin football careers are end Rodger Alberts of Rockford, Ill., guard Mike London of Madison, center Jim Goeke of Lockport, Ill., guard Dave Aulik of Antigo, tackle Mike Sacken of West Allis, end Hank Cuccia of Madison, linebacker Grant Geise of Excelsior, Minn., halfback Jim Grudzinski of Hobart, Wis., and end Joel Jensen of Iowa City, Iowa.

Vikings in Nerve War

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The battle of nerves between the Minnesota Vikings and the Baltimore Colts raged unabated today as Sunday's National Football League showdown in Metropolitan Stadium neared.

The teams appeared to be trying to "psyche" each other over injuries, and neither was giving an inch.

Viking Coach Norm Van Brocklin announced he would have no line-up changes for the game, which Minnesota must win to remain in contention for the Western Conference championship.

That should mean that halfback Tomny Mason will be able to play. But will he? Mason has not practiced this week because of torn ligaments in his right knee, made as he tried to cut on an end sweep in last Sunday's 24-13 victory over Los Angeles here.

Van Brocklin may not want to give the Colts the psychological lift of knowing that Mason cannot play ahead of time, figuring that any time Baltimore spends working on defending Mason runs will be time the Colts can't spend on something else.

Baltimore, on the other hand, keeps saying that quarterback Johnny Unitas is doubtful for the game. The Colts may be working on the reverse psychology that if the Vikings think Unitas can't play, they may have false hopes that the great quarterback can dash quickly Sunday.

However, Unitas worked out briefly Thursday and threw the ball well.

Only one thing is certain in the footy game over the injuries: Colt linebacker Don Shinnick has a broken arm and definitely won't play. Baltimore purchased Thursday linebacker Monte Lee from Mobile of the North American Football League to replace Shinnick.

Sunday's game before a sell-out throng of 47,426 will be the second half of a national television doubleheader shown by the NFL. Game time is 3 p.m.

Spartans, USC Face Key Upsets?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The college football season has been almost devoid of any major upset but have-nots such as Indiana and Pittsburgh hope anticipation and a little bit of luck can change the pattern this weekend.

The Hoosiers go up against top-ranked Michigan State at East Lansing and their 2-6 record hardly qualifies them for the spoiler role. Pitt, also 2-6, has allowed 120 points in its last two routs — an average of an opposition point every minute — and takes on sixth-ranked Southern California at Los Angeles.

But Indiana and Pitt have one thing going for them that most other underdogs don't: this weekend. Both Michigan State and USC can be forgiven for looking past Saturday's games to Nov. 20 when the Spartans play Notre Dame in a game that could decide the national championship and the Trojans battle UCLA, hoping to gain the host role in the Rose bowl.

Looking ahead has helped more than one underdog pull off an upset and it would seem to be one of the few hopes the Hoosiers and Panthers can muster for Saturday's games.

North Carolina, 4-5, is in much the same position against fourth-ranked Notre Dame which walloped Pitt 69-13 last week. The Irish have won five straight since losing their second game of the season against Purdue and seem to be picking up momentum for their big clash with the Spartans next Saturday.

Michigan State, of course, has the incentive to wrap up its first Big Ten crown and insure itself of a trip to the Rose Bowl and with the firepower provided by Clint Jones' explosive running, the Spartans are not expected to trip over the Hoosiers.

USC's power-running Mike Garrett is expected to have a field day against a Pitt line on which Notre Dame's Bill Wolski scored five touchdowns a week ago.

In other games involving Top Ten teams, second-ranked Arkansas can clinch a tie for the Southwest Conference crown against SMU and No. 3 Nebraska can wrap up a Big Eight tie by taking Oklahoma State.

Fifth-ranked Alabama plays South Carolina, No. 8 Tennessee plays Mississippi at Memphis, ninth-ranked Missouri is at home to Oklahoma, and Kentucky, No. 10, plays Houston in the Astrodome.

Stanford, up against UCLA, is in a better position than the other three underdogs. The Indians have a respectable 4-2-1 record and even Uclan Coach Tommy Prothro is worried.

"I've never seen a Stanford team that was easy to beat at Palo Alto," Prothro frowned. The game matches two of the top quarterbacks in the west, UCLA's Gary Beban and Stanford's Dave Lewis.

Arkansas hasn't lost since SMU turned the trick two years ago and the Mustangs must end the Razorbacks' 20-game winning streak if they hope to catch Frank Broyles' club in the SWC race. SMU beat Texas earlier and trails Arkansas and Texas Tech in the conference race. The Razorbacks are 5-0, Tech 4-1 and SMU 3-1.

Nebraska, unbeaten in eight games, has a one-game edge over Missouri in the Big Eight.

COTTER ELECTS CO-CAPTAINS

Cotter High School Thursday elected football co-captains for the 1966-67 season. They are flanker Greg Schoener and halfback Darrell Holzer.

Coach Bob Welch also said that he already has seven teams — St. Bernard's, Benilde, St. Cloud Cathedral, Austin Pacelli, Chippewa Falls, McDonell, Lourdes and De La Salle — on what he hopes will be a nine-game schedule.

ASCO holds a one-game lead in YMCA Volleyball standings after four weeks of play. The ASCO team is unbeaten, while Watkins challenges the leaders with a 3-1 mark.

Games are played every Monday and Wednesday evening at 5:15 p.m. at the YMCA.

They Claim French Two Aren't Best

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — You had better believe in French cooking when it comes to international competition. And horse racing.

The 1-2 finish of Diatome and Carvin in Thursday's Washington, D.C., International race was a shocker of a sort. The runner-up lost by only a nose and beat a hopeful for best horse of the year in the United States, Roman Brother, by a length.

Yet the French pair isn't acknowledged as the best in Europe.

Geoffrey Watson, the English trainer of Diatome, was matter of fact about the $90,000 triumph.

"He won the international, but he's still only the third best in Europe," said Watson. "That Sea Bird and Reliance, they would still beat Diatome."

Diatome finished behind Sea Bird and Reliance in France's Arc de Triomphe and other races. The front two were among several who declined or dropped out of the International.

Diatome had won only two races this year. Jean Bouteiller's Carvin had only one minor victory and went off the longest shot 51-1, in the field of seven in the International.

For those among the 30,069 fans who went for the French flavor, Diatome paid $11.60, $6.60, and $4 across the board while Carvin was $29.20 and $7.80. The favored 4-year-old Roman Brother was $3.20 for third.

Canada's George Royal took down fourth money, Hall to All of the United States was fifth, Argentina's Berején was sixth and England's Super Sam last after fighting Roman Brother for the lead in the first mile.

SURGERY FOR AARON
MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Outfielder Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves will undergo minor surgery Nov. 29, he announced today. The nature of his ailment was not disclosed.

IN TREMPLEAU COUNTY

Home Nursing Care,
EOP Panel Approved

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — Trempealeau County Board of Supervisors unanimously voted this week to establish a program of home nursing care.

It will be provided in the place of residence; fees will be charged.

MRS. MABEL Skroch, county nurse, explained some of the benefits to people over 65 which will become effective July 1, 1966, under Medicare or health insurance benefits. The new program will enable older citizens to remain in their own homes and receive care such as physical therapy treatments.

Under the program they may receive 100 home visits per year. If they sign up for health insurance benefits at a cost of $3 per month, they may receive an additional 100 home visits.

Mrs. Skroch said there are a number of retired nurses, practical nurses and nurse aides in the county who would be willing to work part time. The welfare department has a number of patients that could be referred to the home nursing program. The program could be started with three or four patients and the fees for nursing could be charged back to the pension department. Fourteen percent of the total population of the county at the present time is over 65.

MEMBERS ALSO voted to establish an action panel for the President's Economics Opportunity Program.

Peter Bieri, county agent, said the county has been placed in Region 7 with Jackson, Buffalo and Eau Claire counties for the program. Jackson County has passed a similar resolution.

A total of $207,000 in federal funds is available for the region of which county's share would be about $53,000.

Each county would form its own action panel, the four will join in forming a multi-county commission action council consisting of one or more members from the county panels.

The program, said Bieri, provides financial support for local anti-poverty campaigns in urban and rural areas, on Indian reservations and among migrant workers. Possible projects include remedial reading, literacy instruction, job training, employment counseling, homemaker services, job development, vocational rehabilitation and health services.

Federal assistance, he said, depends on the community's determination to mobilize its own public and private resources; develop programs of sufficient scope and size that promise to eliminate the causes of poverty, involve the poor themselves in developing and operating the anti-poverty attacks, and administer and coordinate the community action programs through public or private nonprofit agencies, or a combination of these.

The federal government is to pay 90 percent of the cost of local programs in the first two years. After that assistance will be on 50-50 matching basis.

NIC JENSEN, Arcadia, president of the Trempealeau County Associated Conservation Clubs, said it's time the county board and clubs join to do something to clean out lakes and ponds so the tourist trade will be attracted. He said unless something is done soon, lakes and ponds will be filled with silt.

Jensen asked the board to appoint a committee to consider buying a dredge, to be made available to the different communities on a rental basis. He said sportsman's clubs would be glad to help.

Members voted to raise the pay of jurors to $12 per day and 10 cents per mile. Jurors not get $6.

The resignation of Noble Thronson, as a member of the board and highway committee was read and accepted.

Lester Senty, Independence, was recognized as being the member with the longest period of service — 32 years.

Most Stocks Higher Despite Aluminum Dip

NEW YORK (AP) — Aluminum fell but cut its losses following the aluminum price rollback while the over-all stock market staged a vigorous advance.

American Telephone, up nearly a point, again showed active leadership. General Motors climbed back more than a point in a rising auto section.

Coppers were stimulated by the strength in the copper futures market due to the Rhodesian situation.

Despite such casualties as Boeing and United Air Lines due to air crash news, aerospace stocks were up well on balance. Electronics, especially the color television stocks, showed a new burst of strength.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 1.1 to 354.5 with industrials up 1.7, rails up .9 and utilities unchanged.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.56 at 955.84.

The averages were helped by gains of about 1 1/2 in United Aircraft, nearly a point by Chrysler, more than a point by New York Central and about 2 1/2 by Kennecott.

Down at a point at the start, Alcoa, the biggest aluminum producer, trimmed the decline to a fraction.

Boeing, down 4 points, was delayed in opening due to a swarm of sell orders resulting from the crash of the Boeing 727 United airliner in Salt Lake City. United Air Lines was off about 1 1/2.

Magnavox spurted about 4 points on news of an agreement with Xerox, which added 2. Also up 2 or better were Polaroid and Fairchild Camera.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mostly unchanged. U.S. Treasury bonds advanced.

MARIGOLD
Holiday Fruit

Then you know it's Quality Chekd!

That means unique flavors. Like our Holiday Fruit Ice Cream. We use real fruits. Red and green cherries. Pineapple. Even toasted and salted almond nut meats. Then we blend generous portions of them with our own creamy vanilla ice cream ... to bring you Holiday Fruit Ice Cream truly rich in fruit flavor! Next time you shop, remember that ours is one of the select dairies authorized to carry the Quality Chekd label. It does make a difference.
